NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—This Hudson Valley community of 31,000, acting in defiance of New York state, today puts into effect a 13-point program clamping

Ex-Lawyer Guilty in Lye Case Sept. 28 Is Set For Sentencing

NEW YORK (AP)—Disbarred lawyer Burton N. Pugach, a bearded eccentric who claims he is insane, will be sentenced Sept. 28 for arranging to have lye thrown in the eyes of a girl who rejected him.

The victim of the attack, pretty brunette Linda Riss, 24, was left totally blind in one eye and partially blind in the other.

Another Convicted

Pugach and the Negro henchman who actually hurled the lye were convicted Friday in the climax to one of the weirdest cases in this city's court annals.

The 34-year-old former attorney, who was judged legally insane at one point after his arrest in 1959, has acted the part throughout. He has ranted, slashed his wrists and carried on in court in an unprecedented fashion—at one time attempting to arrest the judge who was trying his case.

Even at the end of his 14-week trial, as Judge Joseph A. Martin delivered his charge to the all-male jury, Pugach acted in eccentric fashion. He took off his shoes, inspected them gravely and then put them back on.

Jury Out 2½ Hours

Later, returning to the courtroom to learn his fate, the defendant managed a wink to a woman spectator.

It took the jury only two hours and 20 minutes to find Pugach and Heard Harden, 36, guilty of maiming, assault and conspiracy. The two, who each face up to 60 years in prison, accepted the verdict with outward calm.

Miss Riss, a slender, 5-foot-4 secretary, had been going with Pugach but broke off their romance after learning he had been married. He was divorced in 1958.

Chicago Arrests 64 In Racial Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Racial violence erupted for the third straight day in Chicago as roving gangs of young Negroes made new attacks early today.

Despite increased police patrols on the city's Southside, a white man, Fred Vaughn Jr., was beaten by four Negroes wielding ax handles and explosives were thrown at two white girls, Linda Rivers, 14, and Alice Ramos, 12, as they sat on the Ramos front porch.

18 Injured Now

The three raised to 18 the number of white persons injured as a result of the attacks while 64 Negro youths have been arrested for defying police orders.

Police made use of a huge emergency control plan to halt the demonstrations in the neighborhood of the Harrison High School, sending squad cars, patrol wagons. Youth Bureau members and a task force into the area.

It was in this neighborhood that Matthew Tolbert, 16, a Negro, was shot to death Wednesday while walking home from summer classes at Harrison.

Police said restiveness of neighborhood teen-age gangs was stirred by the unsolved shooting.

Several groups stoned house windows as they moved through the section.

At Philadelphia, a Vice President of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called for "immediate and complete eradication of racial discrimination and segregation in the labor movement."

Bids Kennedy Act
A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, told the NAACP's annual convention that Negroes are kept out of membership in certain unions and cannot win administrative offices in unions where they are admitted.

In Hartford, Conn., Negro integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta called on President Kennedy to issue a second emancipation proclamation.

"Now is the time for the President to declare all segregation laws unconstitutional and illegal," he told an audience at Bushnell Memorial Auditorium.

King, who is head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said that the Negroes are being kept out of membership in certain unions and cannot win administrative offices in unions where they are admitted.

Police said restiveness of neighborhood teen-age gangs was stirred by the unsolved shooting.

Several of the other girls agreed. Forty-eight beauties competed in the opening round. They paraded along the ramp in native costumes, then donned elegantly styled evening gowns and finally bathing suits.

They changed back to evening gowns before the 15 semifinalists were announced.

At the height of the applause for the winners, Miss Greece—18-year-old Elestheria Delutsi of Athens, one of those who didn't make it—fainted. The curtain was brought down fast and she was carried off. Pageant officials said she had fainted earlier this week, after a parade. They said she was high-strung.

The 15 girls range in age from just-turned 18 to 24, the youngest being Rosemarie Frankland of Wales. The eldest is Miss Germany, an electronics engineer who fled from East Germany a year ago with her family.

She and Miss Chile, Gloria Silva of Santiago, are the tallest at 5 feet 8.

Suh Yang-hi of Seoul, Korea, is the shortest at 5 feet 2.

down on the flow of welfare aid. The controversial set of regulations, designed by the Republican-controlled City Council to shrink the welfare bill, has brought praise and condemnation from across the nation.

Legality Claimed

State officials, up to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, have expressed opposition to the regulations. The State Welfare Department said the rules are contrary to federal and state law.

But City Manager Joseph Mitchell insisted "they are legal" and said the city was within its rights in putting them in effect.

Mitchell claims that more rigid requirements were needed to curb welfare costs, now amounting to $383,085 out of a $3 million city budget.

More than half the aid, however, comes from federal and state contributions. State officials fear that imposition of the restrictions might block federal welfare funds to all state communities.

In Washington, a Social Security spokesman said his agency is watching developments in Newburgh. But he said any comment on the situation now would be "inappropriate."

Rocky's Action Uncertain

A question still to be answered was what action Gov. Rockefeller plans to take.

Rockefeller, a Republican, said he has "the authority and power to remove local government officials from office" if they violate the state law and constitution, which includes provisions for the needy.

Among the 13-points are those which provide: That welfare recipients, except the blind and infirm, be limited to three months of public assistance in any one year.

That unwed mothers who bear additional children be stricken from welfare rolls. That payments be halted to all able-bodied men who refuse work on city projects.

Water Fees Due Monday For Five City Wards
The Kingston Water Department today reminded residents of Wards 1, 2, 10, 11 and 12 that Monday, July 17, is the last day to pay water rents without a penalty.

The office in City Hall will be open until 4 p. m. on that day. The quarterly water rents are now due, the department announced.

Republicans Plan Caucuses Tonight

Republican caucuses will be held tonight in the city and county at which time delegates to the county and city convention will be named.

The Republican county convention will be held next Saturday at 11 a. m. at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium.

The Republican city convention will be held Monday at 8 p. m. at the court house.

Democratic county and city conventions will be held on Monday, July 24, at municipal auditorium. The county convention will be called at 8 p. m. and the city convention will follow.

Offices to Be Filled
In Kingston candidates for mayor, alderman-at-large, city judge and supervisor and alderman in each ward will be elected at the general election in November.

County offices to be filled this fall are: County judge, district attorney, county treasurer, coroner and a full town ticket will be on the ballot in townships, including election of town supervisors.

Mino, Corwin Likely
Two of the county offices to be filled are presently occupied by officials appointed to fill vacancies.

County Judge Raymond J. Mino (R), was appointed by Governor Rockefeller to fill a vacancy created when Judge Louis G. Bruhn was elevated to the Supreme Court bench. Judge Mino is expected to be the Republican choice for re-election.

District Attorney David W. Corwin (R) of New Paltz was appointed to office to fill the vacancy created by the appointment of District Attorney Mino to the county court bench. Corwin is expected to receive the Republican nod at the convention.

County Treasurer, Fred H. DuBois of New Paltz is expected to be the Republican nominee to succeed himself.

Arthur C. Chipp (R) of Kerhonkson, coroner, is a candidate to succeed himself and is expected to be designated at the Republican convention as the party's choice for re-election.

Schwenk, Perry in Field
In the City of Kingston two Republicans have announced their desire to receive the Republican approval as candidate for mayor to succeed Democratic Mayor Edwin F. Radel. They are former Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk and Alderman Samuel J. Perry, fifth ward.

Benjamin Scheeter, second ward, has announced his desire to be the Republican candidate for alderman-at-large and Joseph D. Saccoman has announced he will seek the Republican nomination for city judge.

Mayor Radel is expected to be the Democratic candidate to succeed himself but Alderman-at-Large Harold Kaye, present incumbent has as yet made no announcement of his intention to seek again the second post in the city government.

Shandaken Asks N.Y. for Review Of Bus Franchise
Shandaken Town Board this week filed charges against Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corp., with the State Public Service Commission, claiming the transportation company "no longer adequately serves the public."

The letter to J. Barclay Potts, chief of Motor Carrier Bureau of the commission in Albany reads: "It is the feeling of the Town Board that this corporation no longer adequately serves the public. In recent months it has discontinued service to the hamlets of Shandaken and Big Indian."

"The portion of the road abandoned is a well developed and populous area, whereas the new route is entirely void of development or persons. Mr. Merriewh (I. Levan) of the bus corporation has persistently refused to consider any further service to the area affected and is quite frank about his intention to abandon Pine Hill after the summer."

"We feel that with the reconstruction of the rest of Route 28 this company intends to further abandon service at Phenicia and Mt. Tremper."

Public Needs Overlooked
"Further, the number and schedule of buses running to Kingston and New York City is inadequate and inconvenient to the public needs."

"For this reason principally the board respectfully requests that a formal review of this franchise be scheduled and that this township have the opportunity to appear therein."

According to J. Feitzinger, town clerk, the action was taken at the regular Shandaken Town Board meeting Tuesday night.

GOP Calls for Briefing On Readiness of U.S. Might in Berlin Crisis

JFK Plans Quiet Time On Cape Cod

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy took a day off today with nothing on his schedule but with Berlin and other problems on his mind.

Kennedy had no activities scheduled except a study of memoranda dealing with a variety of problems—and the German crisis was high on the list.

The President probably will stick close to his white summer place overlooking Nantucket Sound.

Bad Weather Due

With bad weather forecast, Kennedy didn't plan any yachting—a presidential pastime on recent Cape Cod visits.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy will spend the day resting and reading documents he brought from the White House.

"I would say that certainly some of them deal with Berlin," said Salinger. Kennedy is to announce next week the steps his administration plans to deal with the Berlin crisis.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has said he will sign a peace treaty this year with Communist East Germany, and the Western powers regard this as a move to force them out of West Berlin, 110 miles inside the Iron Curtain.

Jackie to Stay

Kennedy and his wife returned to their Cape Cod summer retreat late Friday. The President is here for the weekend, Mrs. Kennedy for the rest of the summer.

It was Kennedy's third straight weekend on Cape Cod. The Kennedy children, Caroline, 3½, and John Jr., 8 months, have been here for two weeks and will spend the rest of the summer.

Mrs. Kennedy plans to stay with them, possibly visiting her family at Newport, R.I., for a week or so.

Kennedy, who returns to Washington Monday, is expected to shuttle between the cape and the capital during the warm-weather months ahead.

Top Drum Corps Vie Tonight at Dietz Stadium
The seventh addition of the annual Pageant of Champions will present more than 300 musicians in the top drum and bugle corps of the East competing for cash and trophies at 8 o'clock tonight in Dietz Stadium.

Participating will be the Caballeros of Hawthorne, N. J. national American Legion champions; the Skyliners of New York City, past National American Legion champs; the Hurricanes of Shelton, Conn., State of Connecticut champions and the Surfers of Long Island, Drum Corps Association.

Tickets for choice seats are still available at the gate. In case of rain the competition will be held Sunday at 2 p. m.

The Critteries of Port Ewen, sponsors of the annual drum corps show, will present an exhibition during the judging.

See Completion Of Mental Health Rooms in August
The new facilities for Ulster County Mental Health Center in the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, costing $10,300, is expected to be completed late in August, it was announced today.

C. Robert Cousins of 26 Kierstead Avenue, newly elected chairman of the Mental Health Board, expressing his gratification for the additional space said, "The Mental Health Board and the staff of the center have been most concerned about the pressing mental health needs of Ulster County. We anticipate that with these enlarged facilities and additional staff, we can help more people and materially shorten the waiting period for appointments. This is one of our major goals."

The new rooms are on the third floor of the Tumor Clinic Building, where the center now has three interviewing offices and a secretarial room on the second floor.

To this will be added a playroom, especially designed and furnished for therapy with children, an additional interviewing room and a large conference room for group therapy sessions, psychiatric consultations and mental health education meetings. This construction work

Two Pledge Tax Votes For Funds
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two liberal Republican senators have called for full congressional briefings on U.S. military readiness to meet the Berlin crisis.

Sens. John Sherman Cooper, of Kentucky, and Jacob K. Javits, of New York, also said Friday they would vote new taxes, if necessary to finance additional military and foreign aid spending.

Plans Night Meetings
The foreign aid program got a new push from Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Fulbright said he will call night meetings of the committee unless it makes progress next Monday and Tuesday on the foreign aid bill.

President Kennedy has taken personal command of the administration drive to dispel seeming reluctance of Senate and House committees to approve the $4.8 billion foreign aid measure.

The President invited members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee to the White House Friday to discuss the legislation. The session followed a similar meeting Thursday with members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Monday Kennedy will see more senators.

Favors Resuming Tests
As Cooper and Javits called for more information, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., urged tough action "to show . . . the world that we mean business."

Goldwater, a spokesman for Senate GOP conservatives, said the United States should resume nuclear testing immediately and urged Kennedy to declare officially "that it is our purpose to win the cold war, not merely wage it in the hope of attaining a stand-off."

Goldwater said administration foreign policy, as voiced by Fulbright in a Senate speech June 29, "was a plea for more useless expenditures in the name of more hopeless objectives."

Fulbright had said it would be dangerous doctrine to permit the United States to be drawn "into costly commitments of its resources to peripheral struggles in which the principal Communist powers are not themselves directly involved."

No Response to Plea
Goldwater saw in Fulbright's speech a call "for further costly implementation of an outmoded, weakened foreign policy which accomplishes nothing but more and greater losses of freedom's territory . . ."

There were only four senators in the chamber when Goldwater spoke and there was no response. Cooper, in his Senate speech, suggested that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and his department "present to the entire Congress . . . full information regarding our present security and their policies and plans."

He urged Kennedy to reject all proposals for compromises on his foreign aid bill and said the President should request and Congress should enact additional taxes—"even a sales tax paid for by all during this crisis"—if present revenues won't support the needed military and foreign aid spending.

Virgil I. Grissom

Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

Begin Energy Diet For Tuesday's Hop

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Steak and baby food, medical checks, star-gazing, make-believe space rides—that's what an astronaut's day is made of.

Virgil I. Grissom and John H. Glenn Jr., had these items on schedule today as they entered the final phase of preparation for America's second manned space flight, scheduled Tuesday morning.

Grissom, 35, an Air Force captain, is reliably reported to be the No. 1 choice for the flight, with Glenn, 39, a Marine lieutenant colonel, standing by as backup pilot as he did on the Alan B. Shepard flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will reveal the name of the chosen astronaut Monday, 24 hours before launch. The flight will be a near-duplicate of Shepard's trip May 5. A Redstone rocket is to boost the manned capsule 115 miles high and 300 miles down range in a test designed to train another space pilot and build experience and confidence for future orbit missions.

Served in Ready Room
Grissom and Glenn today began a low-residue, high energy diet to reduce possibility of excretion and provide quick-burning reserve strength during flight. They were served in a special ready room at the Cape. An official outlined this typical one-day menu:

Breakfast—orange juice, hot cereal, Canadian bacon, two boiled eggs, toast, jelly and coffee. Lunch—broiled chicken, baby food—type peas, bread without crust, cottage cheese salad, ice tea and sugar cookies. Dinner—broiled potato without skin, baby food vegetable, sherbet and coffee.

Practice Missions Due
Both astronauts were to don silver space suits and run through practice missions while seated in the actual space capsule atop the Redstone. They also studied charts of the heavens and the earth beneath the planned capsule path so certain features will be recognizable.

The astronauts have picked the name Liberty Bell 7 for the spacecraft. Shepard's vehicle was Freedom 7. The number represents the total membership of the Mercury astronaut team.

Liberty Bell 7 contains several modifications, including a large observation window, improved manual controls and a new escape hatch designed for quicker exit in case of emergency.

Auto Workers' Demands Most Expensive in 25 Years: GM
DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union has completed presentation of its new contract demands at General Motors and plans to wind up arguments for wage and benefit improvements at Ford and Chrysler next week.

Then it will be the turn of the union bargaining teams to listen to any counterproposals the companies may have in mind. So far they've offered nothing.

After bargaining talks were recessed for the weekend Friday, GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton told newsmen the union's demands could be described in one word—"more."

Seaton said the demands "make up the most expensive package submitted to us in the 25 years of our bargaining relations with the UAW."

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock replied, "Absolutely untrue." He said there was no mechanical way of figuring the cost of UAW demands at this stage of negotiations. The talks started two and one-half weeks ago.

Woodcock declared union proposals for a wage increase based on economic growth, expansion of supplemental unemployment compensation and improvements in the pension plan would cost the companies only a few more pennies per hour.

The union's demands, Woodcock said, could be met out of GM's big profits and would be no more inflationary than the bonuses paid GM executives. He said GM's 310,000 hourly workers got less in wage increases last year than 14,000 GM executives got in bonuses.

In describing union demands as the biggest ever, Seaton gave no specific figures. He said all the demands on the local level for changes in the working agreement had not been received and

Gambling Raid Nets 13 Men in Syracuse
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—City police, the district attorney and an assistant in a sports car staged a gambling raid at a plushly decorated back room of a downtown restaurant Friday night and confiscated about $10,000. Thirteen men were rounded up. Six were released after questioning.

Police booked the other seven, mostly on charges of being inmates of a gambling house, a misdemeanor.

Among those rounded up was Frank Bagozzi, 45, who has been free in $7,500 bail since a raid at another establishment April 8.

Police said they found Bagozzi hiding in the ladies' restroom of the restaurant.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Irwin B. Birnbaum drove his small sports car onto the sidewalk and blocked the

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Coach Paul Dietzel of Louisiana State University brings faith to the football field. "Before we won a National Championship, we lost six games in a row and it was only through the strength of the Lord that I could face the ensuing game, our squad or our fans," he told me. "During the following 'championship years' I held fast to those dark days and tried my best to remember the One who provided the strength to carry on."

Paul lets it be known the type of player he wants: "Is it a sissy to be the first guy on the practice field?... to be the most vicious tackler on the squad?... to believe in God?... If that's being a sissy, then thank God for sissies... Because sissies are the timber from which champions are fashioned."

Farm Yields Nourishment For Both Body and Spirit

By BILL HARRISON
PETALUMA, Calif. (AP)—They feed the cows white bread; they pay the farm hands nothing.

Need fathered these practices and the strange farm itself—the simple, stark need of empty stomachs aching for food. But the farm produces far more than food. Its richest return is in human spirit.

The farm hands, most of them, had taken an economic beating in San Francisco, 50 miles to the south. In comeback tries they'd met only closed doors, averted eyes and "sorry" notes.

The reason the men hit bottom? The bottle sometimes. Plain bad luck in many cases. They hadn't been in California long enough to qualify for official aid.

When a woman asked him to find someone to run a 10-acre farm five years ago, an inspiration hit Father Alfred. Why not buy the farm and raise food for the dining room?

"You've been a farmer?" the surprised woman asked. Father Alfred, born in San Francisco 57 years ago, has been a scholar—his studies included two years in Rome—a teacher, a pastor, never a farmer. But neither had he run a dining room before he was assigned to the St. Boniface parish in 1949.

So the farm was bought. "For a song," Father Alfred says without giving figures. It proved too small and its clay soil too poor to help much.

But Father Alfred still felt his idea was sound and the Franciscans bought a 65-acre ranch nearby "for another song, compared to its worth."

At the dining room, men often ask to go to the farm. They stay a day, a month, a year or much longer. To go or to stay is entirely their decision, and a ride back to the city is available almost daily on the farm supply truck.

The men get three meals a day, a bed, tobacco and personal necessities such as soap and razor blades. Like the dining room, the farm has no fees, no questions, no sermons. And there is no salary for chores.

The seller of the larger farm, John Messer, stayed on at a salary to supervise the growing dairy herd, now 230 head including calves. There's also a paid foreman on each farm.

The cows, mostly Holsteins, are fed bread instead of bran mash. Why? Stale loaves hauled from city bakeries cost $24 a ton; bran runs about $74. The cows thrive and their production stays up.

Father Alfred says already 500 men have gone from the farms to outside jobs.

Bible School Is Set Aug. 7-18 by Reformed Church

Fair Street Reformed Church will sponsor a Vacation Bible School starting August 7 and ending August 18. The theme will be "Living for Jesus" as announced today by co-directors Mrs. Thomas Baggot and Mrs. Robert Brown. The classes will include children from three years of age to children entering the sixth grade of school.

The teaching staff will be Mrs. Gerald Styles, Mrs. George Ballou Jr., Mrs. Lewis Casey and Donald Maxam. Handicrafts will be supervised by Mrs. Frank Storm and Mrs. Donald Maxam. Recreation will be under the direction of Mrs. John Van Steenburgh. Assisting in the various functions of the Bible School will be Mrs. Joseph Erickson, Mrs. Alexander Mac Donald, Mrs. Joseph F. Castle and Mrs. John Walker. Younger members of the church who will act as junior assistants are Cheryl Walker, Susan Emerick, Ronald Storm and Donald Reed.

An invitation is extended to all children of the community to attend the Vacation Bible School. Registration is requested at the church office no later than July 31.

Southern District Scouters Discuss Finance Campaign

Representatives of the Southern District, Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America met at the Ulster County Court House in Kingston Thursday night to discuss plans for participation in the annual drive for council operating funds to be held in the early fall.

The meeting, presided over by Joseph Martorana of Clintondale, finance chairman of the Southern District, was also the occasion for the presentation of a framed appreciation certificate to Frank Mandy of Highland for his outstanding service as special gifts chairman in the past campaign conducted in the Town of Lloyd. The award was presented by Clifford A. Henze of Hurley, president of the Rip Van Winkle Council.

Other council representatives present at the meeting included Scout Executive Alex Macdonald, Hurley, and Council Prospects and Rating Chairman, Herbert Greenwald, Kingston. Also representing the Southern District at the planning session were: Frank Mandy, as co-chairman for the Town of Lloyd; Richard Barley, Marlboro, chairman for the Town of Marlboro; James Palen, Modena, chairman for the Town of Plattekill; Carmine Sabarese, Ardonia, vice chairman for the Town of Plattekill.

Two key campaign leaders unable to attend the meeting were Harold Berean, Highland, chairman for the Town of Lloyd; and David Bell, Milton, vice chairman for the Town of Marlboro. The appointment of top campaign leaders in the Towns of Gardiner and Shawangunk will be announced, shortly, according to District Finance Chairman, Martorana.

Financial support for Boy Scouting in New Paltz will come from Ulster County Community Chest in which New Paltz is participating for the first time this year. The active support of the Ulster County Community Chest drive in New Paltz by all Scouters, parents and friends of Scouting was urged by Martorana.

The growth of the Southern District in the past two years to 17 Scouting Units serving nearly 600 boys was emphasized by Scout Executive Macdonald. He pointed out that the Southern District is now the second largest district in the council in respect to the number of boys served in the Scouting program.

Short Circuit Causes Catskill School Fire

A short circuited adding machine in the Catskill School offices was reported as the cause of a fire in the building on Monday.

Superintendent of Schools James Hines reported the cause of the blaze to Fire Chief J. P. Cummings of Catskill Friday. The fire about 11 p. m. caused extensive damage to the Catskill School District's clerk's office.

Water Carnival Ends Second Week At Catholic Camp

A week filled with hotly fought contests finally came to a close Friday at Catholic Day Camp, Lake Katrine, with all teams competing in a water carnival and talent show.

When the final results were known, it was announced that the Rebels captained by Steve Seche had edged out the teams of Bill McCord's Thunderbirds, Frank McGowan's Stompers, Joe Gorman's Hawks.

The girls' division was championed by the Accusers under the direction of Pettie Rua. Trailing only a few points behind were Pat Werner's Orioles, Annette Belisito's Pink Elephants, Mary O'Connor's Cardinals.

The deep water emblem of the "green fish" was awarded to the following: Dominick Ausanio, Frank Barry, Robert Barrogin, Anthony Cicoria, Ed Cunningham, Frank Egan, Pete Ferraro, Bill Flynn, Joe Gorman, Mike Gorman, Jay Maurer, Frank McGowan, Tom McGowan, Steve Seche, Pete Wilson.

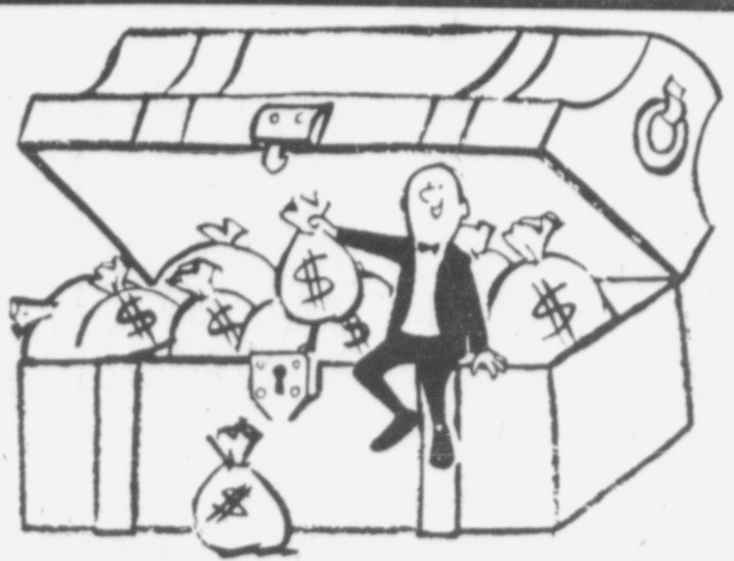

In the girls' division it was awarded to: Pat Bailey, Sandra Bailey, Dawn Bodenweber, JoAnn Bruno, Rosemary Cahill, Mary Cicoria, Theresa Conte, Gwendolyn Cronk, Pat Cronk, Nina Cummings, Jean DeAngelis, Linda Fabiano, Barbara Geary, Elizabeth Geary, JoAnn Koeppen, Carol MacDonald, Michele Manier, Jean McCullough, Pat Naylor, Debbie Rabbottini, Betty Radel, Karen Sharnet, Charlene Shuler, Rosemary Wiands.

Intermediate swimmer's certificates were awarded to: Dawn Bodenweber, JoAnn Bruno, Mary Cicoria, Anthony Cicoria, Theresa Conte, Nina Cummings, Ed Cunningham, Eileen DeAngelis, Frank Egan, Bill Flynn, Barbara Geary, Roberta MacDonald, Pat Naylor, Charlene Shuler.

During the next period, Jack Millard expects to have some of the advanced swimmers ready to try for the "blue fish" emblem while adding more names to the "green fish" swimmers.

Wagner Orders Full Investigation Of School Boat Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner has ordered a "to the very bottom" probe of the circumstances surrounding a boat building project undertaken by vocational high school students for city school Supt. Dr. John J. Theobald.

The inquiry will also go into Theobald's purchase of building supplies for work he did himself at his Sands Point, N.Y., home. The superintendent has said that occasionally he obtained the supplies at wholesale prices, and that in some cases the firms he dealt with may have been doing business with the schools.

Wagner ordered the investigation Friday, telling City Investigation Commissioner Louis I. Kaplan to look into the affair and keep him posted every step of the way.

Shortly thereafter, Theobald met with Kaplan, said he welcomed any investigation and reiterated his statement that there was nothing improper in having East New York Vocational High School students build a 15 1/2-foot runabout for him.

He asked to appear before a Queens grand jury looking into school affairs and offered to submit to a "full inquiry."

Theobald has said throughout that any citizen can have a craft built for himself by the students upon application to the board of education—provided he agrees to pay the cost of materials and to accept the boat no matter how it turns out.

This is what he did, the superintendent said explaining that he had paid $400 for the materials and had let the students build the boat so as to gain experience "as part of the instructional program."

Theobald has also acknowledged he had the craft built in the name of his brother-in-law, saying he felt it better if "the kids did not know they were building a boat for the school superintendent."

A spokesman for the Board of Education, meanwhile, said the principal of the vocational high school in Brooklyn, Edward N. Wallen, had had a rowboat and an 18-foot craft built by his students. Wallen said he, too, had paid for the materials.

Mariners' Museum

The extensive collection of massive figureheads that once decorated the prows of historic vessels fascinates visitors to the Mariners' Museum at Newport News, Va., where ship models range from primitive Indian dugouts to the liner United States. Among full-size treasures exhibited are an old Yankee whaleboat, a Chesapeake Bay log canoe, a Tahitian pirogue and a two-man Japanese submarine.

Trap Rock Plant Shutdown Due to Truckers' Strike

An official of New York Trap Rock Corp., Stoneco, Dutchess County, today confirmed a report that the plant had shutdown because of a strike of outside truckers in New York City and Long Island.

George White, superintendent of the plant, told The Freeman that 150 men will be out of work until the New York and Long Island labor dispute is settled.

White emphasized that the employees of New York Trap Rock Corp. were not involved in the labor trouble, but it was necessary to shutdown the plant south of Poughkeepsie "because materials were not moving" due to the strike in the metropolitan area.

White said the shutdown of the plant will be indefinite, depending on settlement of the labor dispute which does not involve New York Trap Rock Corp.

Man Reported Missing

City police were notified Friday that Gerald Smith, 26, of 29 Warren Street, is missing from his home. When last seen he was wearing an olive green jacket, green trousers and green cap. Smith is five feet, 11 inches tall, authorities said.

'Secondary' Offerings
May Depress Stock Price

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—"I bought American-Market shares early this year, and they are now below my purchase price. My broker says that a recent 'secondary' share offering did not help the situation. I'm not sure what he means—or if I should sell." A. P.

A—First, let me explain that secondary share offerings simply represent selling by large accounts. Usually these distributions involve blocks of stock which are too large to be digested by the market at one time without pushing the shares down substantially.

To avoid this, secondaries are handled outside regular market channels through one or more brokerage firms.

Normally, the offerings are made at a fixed price which is close to the current market level of the shares. Because they sometimes represent distribution by "inside" interests, secondaries are often regarded unfavorably and may depress the price of a stock.

However, a relatively large number of these big sales have been made during the recent period of market weakness, and the great majority have been well received. To me this shows a substantial reservoir of buying power, which may actually have a moderately bullish implication.

In my opinion, American-Market is a good investment. It will probably merge with Martin Company (NYSE), a leading weapons and space firm, later this year. The proposed new company would bring together two strong management teams. I advise you to hold.

Q—"While an employee of Minnesota Mining, I purchased seven shares of stock at $64.50 each. After two share splits, I now have 30 shares and a good capital gain. Shall I sell my shares?" R. I.

A—Minnesota Mining's growth record is one of the strongest of any large American enterprise, and I expect it to be fairly well maintained. You might consider selling a part of your holdings in order to diversify. Otherwise, I would retain my position.

SINO-SOVIET TIME BOMB

Speculation as to the nature and extent of disagreement between the Moscow and Peiping regimes appears to run in cycles. Discussions of the matter rise to a peak and then die down, only to rise again. Just now we are in the midst of a new rash of speculation in print.

To point out the recurrent nature of this discussion is not at all to minimize the importance of such speculation. The very fate of the world may, in a grimly practical sense, hang on the future of relations between the Soviet Union and mainland China. A certain desirable perspective can be maintained, however, by keeping in mind that there has been talk of a Sino-Soviet split before.

This does not alter the fact that Russia and Communist China do seem to be increasingly at odds. When Khrushchev congratulated the United States on the Fourth of July anniversary, at the same time virtually ignoring the 40th birthday of the Chinese Communist party, this was a pointed rebuff to Peiping.

Nor was this the first such rebuff; it was only the latest in a recent series of snubs which have caused plenty of eyebrow-lifting in Western capitals. When it comes to going behind the facts—to determining the causes and extent of the present coolness—there is no concerted view among diplomats.

One of the most plausible theories, however, is that the Red Chinese would like to see the United States pushed to the point of war. Khrushchev realizes that after any such holocaust Peiping might well move into a shattered and helpless Russia. So until the Red Chinese (so this story goes) cease prodding Russia into nuclear war, Soviet-Chinese solidarity may be severely strained. The West may be able to capitalize on this—but it's a little like halting a time bomb's mechanism.

A HESITANT MARKET

As a small boy called on the parental carpet stands still waiting for something to happen, so the stock market stood still while its investigation was being considered in Washington. This circumstance alone does not wholly explain the market's recent doldrums, but it did help to hold down normal summer buoyancy.

Nor has Khrushchev and his rocket rattling done anything to encourage prices. Apprehension over Berlin certainly has affected those who are wont to buy stocks at this time of year. Contrary to Communist dogma, Wall Street is far from bullish in the face of international conflict. Even the prospect of a partial mobilization because of the Berlin crisis could produce a tailspin in stock prices.

In view of these foreign and domestic question marks, market hesitancy is understandable. It probably will continue until the horizon becomes a bit clearer.

FARM PROBLEM CAUSES

The so-called farm problem, which is really a complex of various problems, has come to have such a high emotional content that objective thought about it is rare. The partisans of this or that approach to the farmer's difficulties get so thoroughly steamed up that basic facts tend to become obscured. It is worthwhile to stand back, now and then, for a look at some of those facts.

Two circumstances underlie the difficulties of American agriculture. One is that farmers are, in a sense, too efficient; that is, though both farm acreage and the number of farmers is declining, production continues to rise. Another underlying cause of trouble is that a growing percentage of the consumer's food dollar goes for services—packing, processing, and so on—with a corresponding drop in the amount actually spent on food itself.

Both of these circumstances cut into the

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
AN UNSIGNED LETTER

I usually do not see unsigned letters. They are thrown in the waste-paper basket where they belong. However, I have received one that is so unusually stupid that I read it and give to you the publishable part.

"Have you forgotten your boyhood days when $30.00 a week was probably a fortune to your family. And perhaps today some one ought to wise you up to the facts of life. Believe it or not, there are still thousands existing on $30.00 a week. You couldn't expect them to cry in their beer over $30.00 a day.

"It's people like you who are overpaid living off the fat of the land are the cause of inflation and poor people having to pay more than afford to keep alive."

The writer of this letter is innocent of economics. My father probably earned about $25 a week, more or less. When I went to high school, I was given 25 cents a day. Out of that I paid subway fare, ate my lunch, read two newspapers a day and had enough left to sit in the top balcony of a Keith and Proctor vaudeville show. I had a brother who sold millinery and was always on the road. He may have spent $3 a day traveling; maybe a little more out West. It was possible to get a breakfast of stewed prunes, three eggs and bacon, or a small steak with German fried potatoes, and hot cakes or toast and coffee for well under a dollar. For a time, when I worked as an office boy, I had my lunch at Max's Busy Bee. I am sure that I never spent more than a dime and I got good, nourishing food.

But that cannot be done today. A salesman, if he travels by car, may stay at a motel where the rooms may cost as much as in a good hotel. If he stays in a hotel, he cannot possibly get along on $30 a day and stay at an "address" — that is the kind of hotel, in a good neighborhood, to which his customers would come to look at his samples or to discuss a big deal. If he wants to butter-up a buyer, which is ordinary sales practice, he must take him and his wife to a show at $2.50 a ticket, if he can get a ticket at that price or pay anything that the speculator demands. If he goes to a suitable place for dinner, say, in New York, at $21 or The Colony or the Four Seasons, or the Pavilion, something interesting and spectacular, his bill for four can easily run between $80 and $100 — and that is not high for such places although it may be extravagant.

We live in a competitive world and a phase of doing business is entertainment and dining out. Of course, there are folk who earn little, but they do not do the work that involves an expense account. Let us say that I am ordered to go to London or Geneva or Rome or anywhere, I could not do it on $30 a day. It is just not the price tag anymore.

The anonymous writer asks me if I have forgotten my boyhood days. Not at all. I remember them very pleasantly. For a time, I worked after school for the New York Public Library and got $2.50 a day. Many students did that and it helped a lot. My job was to stack books and the work was hard but pleasant. After doing that, I went home for dinner and home-work. We managed very comfortably on what today would not pay the rent of an apartment in a decent neighborhood such as we had when the rent amounted to about $40 a month. The landlord became a multi-millionaire.

The answer is that if a dollar had the purchasing power in 1961 that it had in 1910, life would be much easier all around. As I write this I recall a one dollar dinner on the Hudson Day Line. There was soup, roast beef, potatoes and vegetables, corn on the cob which was then a luxury, pie, cheese and coffee. Get that meal anywhere in the quantities then provided, with the trimmings, for one dollar today.

Times sure have changed, brother.

The Mature Parent Being Truthful Combats Child's Temper Tantrum

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Our 5-year-old boy has had several temper tantrums lately—kicking, screaming, banging the floor. As I know he is frustrated by having to share me with his new baby sister, I have tried to quiet him by telling him I love him more than his sister. Is this wrong? It does not seem to quiet him.

ANSWER: Do you truly love for this small boy when he is howling and banging the floor? If you don't, please reconsider the wisdom of lying to him in his crises of discouragement.

Because a person who is having a temper tantrum has lost trust in himself. He is terrified of the tide of uncontrollable passion sweeping him on to some unpredictable end. So he needs self-trust; a person around him whose own feelings do not frighten him. He needs the truth of those feelings in order to recover human contact. For many of us that truth is:

"I've had enough of this roaring. Now I'm taking you upstairs where you can roar to your heart's content until you are ready to tell me why you're so mad."

Would you enjoy being assured of love by a person who had enraged you? I bet you wouldn't. But you would find such assurances intolerably patronizing. I bet you would howl louder than ever at this priggish contrast of inflexible devotion with your disheveled, desperate state. If you were a self-respecting child you would quit banging the floor—and take time out to level a kick at Sanctimony's shin.

Children who are falsely assured of love during a temper tantrum can emerge from it with more suspicion and anxiety than when they entered it.

For, what the phony protests mean is that we have refused involvement with their passion. We have failed to give what we have been given—genuine feeling. In many cases they mean that we are parroting words processed for us by some psychologist who has no connection with our child. They mean we are afraid to be touched in our real selves.

This is why children given such false feeling in the loss of a temper tantrum fling themselves into another one in despair of ever finding the human being in us.

People of unbroken benevolence should live by themselves. Like us, children find their rigid devotedness too painful a contrast with real human feeling. They're Johnny One-Notes and the monotonous tunes they play can torture.

farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar. Because of production efficiency, the cost of food at the farm level declines; at the same time, the retail cost rises. The consumer's demand for more and more refinements, more and more labor-saving shortcuts, aggravates the situation.

Moreover, the trend is almost certain to continue. A recent study showed this: when the real income of the average U.S. consumer goes up 10 per cent, the consumption of farm food products rises only about services goes up from 10 to 13 per cent. 2.5 per cent but the consumption of food

Pointing to the problems is much easier than finding solutions. Still, Congress might do worse than to brush aside the undergrowth of claims and charges, for a time, and take a deliberate look at the root causes.

"WHAT Berlin?"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—Two private citizens of Germany have come to Washington on a strange unofficial mission which they say has nothing to do with the latest Berlin crisis stirred up by Russia's Nikita Khrushchev. The two visitors are looking principally for sympathy and understanding of a World War 2 aftermath now almost completely forgotten in America.

It concerns the 12 million people who, in the last 16 years, have fled or have been driven by communism from the eastern provinces of prewar Germany to the freedom of the western Federal Republic of Germany.

Their two emissaries to this country—strapping big Teutons who speak almost no English—are Egbert Otto, president of the Association of East Prussia, and Wilhelm Hoffman, president of the Association of Pomeranians. The northern part of East Prussia is now occupied by Russia, the southern part by Poland, Pomerania, which straddles the lower Oder river where it flows into the Baltic Sea, is occupied by Poland.

ALL GERMANS FROM these two provinces and from Silesia, Saxony, Thuringia, Brandenburg and Mecklenburg who have fled to freedom in western Germany are now organized into the Refugee Party. Next to organized labor, the refugees are Germany's second largest pressure group. They represent about 20 per cent of the total West German population. They have 60 seats in the 480-member Bundestag, or parliament.

But these people do not like to be called refugees. They prefer to be called expellees. The emphasis is that they were driven from their former homes by the Communists. They are obsessed by one desire. They want to go home.

Under present conditions they have about as much chance of going back to their old homes as a snowball has of surviving in July sun. But it is significant to note that while the Communists are trying to cut off the 16 to 17 million people remaining in East Germany to make a separate state, there are now 12 million East Germans in West Germany dedicated to reunification of all Germans in a single anti-Communist nation.

THE EXPELLEES — THESE FORMER East Germans have now found jobs in prosperous, booming West Germany. They have made new homes. They are fully accepted and integrated as citizens of the German Federal Republic. But when it is suggested that the expellees are getting older and that their children will grow up without the burning desire to go back to their ancestral homelands, there is emphatic protest.

"Look at the Jewish people," says Herr Hoffman. "The Jews were wanderers on the face of the earth for 2,000 years. Yet their desire to return to Palestine never faltered and they finally succeeded."

"Look at the Poles," says Herr Otto. "Poland has been oppressed by Russia for 150 years. They are under Communist domination now, but the desire to be free is strong in them."

THE POSITION OF THE COMMUNIST Polish government, of course, is that the former eastern German lands now have been completely integrated into Poland and given to Poles who were forced to move from what used to be eastern Poland by the Russians. Any attempt to reverse the "move" would only cause new catastrophes and disasters.

But the German expellees try to influence the Poles to seek restoration of their old borders. They seek support for this in Britain and in France, too, but with no more luck than they have have encountered in America.

Nobody in government wants to see them because they have no official, diplomatic standing. The two German visitors in Washington have had to content themselves with seeing people like retired Admiral Arthur W. Radford, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and a few congressmen.

THE EXPELLEES HAVE NO UNDERGROUND organization of their own to aid refugees seeking to enter West Germany. But they still stream across the border, 20,000 a month or more.

There is no free radio urging the Germans left behind the iron curtain to revolt. Food packages are sent in when there are shortages.

They have no military organization of their own and they do not advocate restoration of their homelands by war—with somebody else doing the fighting. The Refugee Party charter drawn up in 1950 merely pledges the members to seek restoration of their homelands by peaceful means. It is a force to remember.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MITLER

I was just looking through a little book put out in 1909 called "The Beginnings of New York—Kingston the First State Capital" by Mary Isabella Forsyth. I see in 1866, the Forsyth family, consisting of Miss Mary Isabella Forsyth, Miss Katharine Bruyn Forsyth, Miss Petrenea Bruyn Forsyth, Ralph K. Forsyth (a student) and Severn Bruyn Forsyth all lived at 41 Pearl Street. I take it, this is the family who so graciously gave Forsyth Park to the people of Kingston.

One item from this book says: "Generals George and James Clinton, both lived in Kingston. There too lived Christopher Tappan, the well-known patriot and statesman, whose family, when the town was fired by British troops, sacrificed their own valuable papers to save those of the state."

Miss Forsyth further writes: "Near by, at Hurley, where the homes of Col. Cornelius D. Wynkoop and Col. Charles DeWitt, whose services both in the army and as legislator showed him worthy of the ancestor who had suffered martyrdom at the Hague... Gilbert Livingston, a son of the original patron, was a resident of Kingston. His name is found on one of the gravestones in the old churchyard."

"DeWitt, a Hollander, had a large house used for assemblies, which brought together for social affairs the gentry from many quarters. Full dress was a requisite for these state occasions. This house, like many others, of the same period, is still standing, rebuilt on the ruins left when the town was burned by the British in 1777."

She also writes about "the old house built in 1675 by Wessel Tenbroeck, where the first state Senate met, is now a museum owned

Books Are Displayed At Campus School

A comprehensive collection of more than 400 books from 45 of the country's leading publishers, including 11 university presses, is now on display in the Campus School of the State University College of Education here.

The books will be on display until July 19, and the public is invited to see the collection. Library hours are from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 4 p. m. Encompassing 27 basic subject areas, ranging from advice, guidance and fiction to philosophy, science and religion. While designed primarily to appeal to high school pupils, the exhibit also has broad interest for adults, since a majority of the books are adult publications.

Books on Exhibit, a national exhibiting service, now in its ninth year is responsible for providing the display. Strictly promotional, the service neither accepts nor fills orders; the books of the exhibit are obtainable through the usual trade sources.

Teen-age Block Dance Held at School Yard

The Recreation Committee of Town and Village sponsored a Teenager's Block Dance, the first of its kind, on the macadam parking lot at the central school Thursday evening.

The dance was chaperoned by Coach William Russell and his staff.

Music was furnished by the Del-Vons, a local rock and roll group from New Paltz Central High School. The group consists of Don Abrams on drums, Al Wolf on electric guitar, Dave Salkever on bass, and Glenn Moore on electric accordion. Adrain Gilley, another guitarist, well known for his original rock 'n' roll, joined the group.

Nikita's Troika Plan Facing First U.S. Veto in Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, in an uncompromising mood, threatens to use its U.N. veto for the first time if necessary to kill Soviet Premier Khrushchev's "troika" plan to reorganize the United Nations.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a statement approved by President Kennedy, said Friday the Soviet proposal for a three-headed U.N. directorate to replace Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld is an attempt to kill the effectiveness of the United Nations. He added:

"There is no way that the Soviet Union can impose his proposals. This would mean an amendment of the (U.N.) charter, which requires the consent of the United States and other permanent members of the Security Council.

"We would not consent, nor would the necessary two-thirds of the General Assembly. The United Nations will not destroy itself."

Of the five permanent members of the Security Council, the United States, in an uncompromising mood, threatens to use its U.N. veto for the first time if necessary to kill Soviet Premier Khrushchev's "troika" plan to reorganize the United Nations.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a statement approved by President Kennedy, said Friday the Soviet proposal for a three-headed U.N. directorate to replace Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld is an attempt to kill the effectiveness of the United Nations. He added:

"There is no way that the Soviet Union can impose his proposals. This would mean an amendment of the (U.N.) charter, which requires the consent of the United States and other permanent members of the Security Council.

"We would not consent, nor would the necessary two-thirds of the General Assembly. The United Nations will not destroy itself."

Race Ends in Death

NEW YORK (AP) — What apparently began as a two-car drag race ended Friday night in flaming death for one of the motorists—a man whose body was so badly charred by electricity and fire it had not yet been identified by early today.

The motorist's car, bearing New York State license plates, crashed through an iron fence in the Bronx and plunged 35 feet down into the path of a New York Central Railroad train.

the shortest—5 feet 4. But she is also the most liberally endowed, 37-22½-37. That gives her five inches on Atida Pisanti of Haifa, Israel, the slimmest of the lot at 32-21-32.

For publication, at least, all of the girls gave a variation of Miss Sweden's answer when she was asked what she thought of her chances of winning the Miss Universe crown.

"I'm very surprised I got this far; I didn't think I would," said Gunilla Knutsson of Ystad, Sweden. "I'm nothing special."

"We have our own private ideas on the subject," added Arlette Dobson of Weybridge, England. But two South American girls—Adriana Gardiazabal of Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Miss Chile—were more out-spoken.

"We think Miss Germany will get it, or maybe Miss Wales," they said.

U. S. Girl Finalist

The other semifinalists are Carmela Stein of Lima, Peru; Liliane Burnier, Geneva, Switzerland; Simone Darot, Paris, France; Kristjanna Magnúsdóttir, Reykjavik, Iceland; and Sharon Brown of Minden, La., who was named Miss USA Thursday night.

they had to be figured in labor costs.

The 1968 contracts expire Aug. 31.

The UAW handed Ford Friday its proposal to retain and improve the annual wage increase of 6 cents an hour and the escalator clause tying wages to the cost of living index.

Ford also was asked to take over the full cost of hospital-medical-surgical insurance. The auto companies now pay half the cost.

arguing for retention of the wage formula in the present contract, the UAW gave no figure on how it should be improved. It suggested to GM the wage increase based on productivity should be increased about 3 cents an hour.

Chicago Arrests

ern Christian Leadership Conference, predicted the struggle over the "Freedom Riders" in Jackson Miss., was heading for a breaking point. But he said he did not know when or what that point would be.

At Jackson, city police arrested two former Freedom Riders on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors by enticing them to break the state's segregation laws.

In addition, four Jackson Negroes were convicted of breach of the peace for taking part in a sit-in at a variety store lunch counter traditionally reserved for white persons. City Judge James Spencer sentenced them to $200 fines and four months in jail.

Four riders—two Negroes and two white persons—arrived at Shreveport, La., at a bus station sealed off by police. They left for New Orleans without trying a test segregation facilities. The riders earlier were released from jail in Little Rock, Ark.

Freedom Swimmers Barred

Another group of riders composed of four Negroes and four white persons stopped briefly at Baton Rouge, La., before continuing to New Orleans. No attempt was made to use bus station facilities. The group, sponsored by the Second Baptist Church of Los Angeles, plans to go to Jackson eventually.

At Pontiac, Mich., a temporary injunction was issued barring a number of Negro and white youths who call themselves "Freedom Swimmers" from picketing or interfering with the operations of a suburban Oak Park swimming pool.

A Lot of People Care

Life Brightens In N. Y. Court

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph McGowan has learned that people do care.

A lot of them came forward Friday to help the 53-year-old father, to befriend him and, perhaps, most important of all, to show him understanding.

Things looked a lot darker Thursday for McGowan, who earns $70 a week as a mail clerk. Faced with a $285 tuition bill for his 19-year-old college student son, he held up a Manhattan savings and loan association. He was caught only moments later.

It was, ironically, at McGowan's arraignment that his life began to brighten.

His wife, Catherine, from whom he has been estranged for two years, appeared to comfort him.

Two Are Dead

Gunman Gives Up, Not Sorry About Shooting of 4

CRAIG, Colo. (AP)—Weak and famished from two days of flight through rugged mountains, a pint-sized gunman surrendered Friday and admitted he shot four Colorado officers because "I just didn't wanta go to jail."

Delmar D. Spooner, 25, of Storm Lake, Iowa, was impassive when captors told him two of his victims were dead.

"I saw my chance and grabbed it," he said. "I'm not sorry it happened."

Spotted From Train

His admission was reported by Sheriff William Terrill and Colorado Patrol Chief Gilbert R. Carrel.

The blond young ex-soldier was seized as he crouched behind a rock near a railroad spur at Bond, in northwest Colorado.

The engineer of a passing mail train first spotted him and alerted some of more than 200 officers searching for him.

State Patrol Cpl. Maurice Becker saw the suspect behind the rock, gun in hand, and called: "Give it up or I'll blow your brains out."

Weapon Fully Loaded

Spooner hesitated, then dropped the weapon. It was fully loaded. Becker and another searcher handcuffed Spooner to a railroad handcar and returned to Bond. Groups of officers and volunteers—many of them friends of Spooner's victims—clustered around and some mauled him as he was led away for interrogation.

Under questioning he recounted in a flat, colorless voice the violence last Wednesday in which the four officers were shot.

Spooner had stopped his car near Kremmling, Colo., where a passing Colorado Game and Fish Department employee, Robert L. Hoover, 35, saw him and offered aid. Hoover became suspicious when he noticed a rifle and ammunition in the parked car.

State Patrol Lt. Hiram Short, 49, and Sheriff Chancy Van Pelt, 55, arrived within a few minutes and searched Spooner. He moved to the car, drew a hidden gun and began firing.

All three officers were wounded, and Short died within a few hours. Van Pelt and Hoover are in serious condition at a Denver Hospital.

Officers said the young Iowan gave no explanation why he came to Colorado.

Guernsey Craft, Father of Ulster County Clerk, Dies

Guernsey Craft, 88, father of Ulster County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft of Ellenville, died at his home, 58 Warren Street, Ellenville Friday.

Mr. Craft was born in Ellenville July 4, 1873, son of the late Edwin and Mary Knowles Craft. On August 18, 1897 he was married to the former May Bradford at Ellenville, who died in 1939. Mr. Craft was a retired employee of the Ulster Knife Company, Ellenville, and was an associate member of Pioneer Engine Company No. 1, Ellenville.

Surviving are four sons, Lawrence D. W. DeLois and Edwin Craft all of Ellenville and Frederick Craft of West Hurley; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Murden of Woodbourne; a brother, Fred Craft of Ellenville; a sister, Mrs. Anna DeVoe of Middletown. Four grandsons, seven granddaughters, eight great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews also survive.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. from the Louck's Funeral Home, 79 North Main Street, Ellenville, with the Rev. Orson O. Rags, pastor of the Ellenville Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Faintekill Cemetery, Ellenville.

Jilts Daughter Of Bob Crosby On Wedding Day

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Band-leader Bob Crosby's 27-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Ann, was still a miss today and she appeared to be as much in the dark as anyone about what happened to her bridegroom.

Friday afternoon, the pretty brunette, wearing a navy blue suit, a little flower wreath hat and a four and a half carat diamond engagement ring, arrived at City Hall to meet H. Frank Jones, 30, a San Francisco writer. They were to be married in a civil ceremony.

She waited with her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Van Hook. The appointed hour of 3 p. m. arrived but Jones did not. She had called Jones at 2:30 p. m.

"He said that he was just through with his shower and that he would take a cab over," she said.

At 3:30 p. m. Miss Crosby calmly commented, "he's nervous, like all bridegrooms."

But no one was able to locate Jones.

Finally at 4:25 p. m. her stepfather suggested the wedding party leave City Hall.

The romance has a turbulent history. Friday noon, Jones, whose book "We Few" was published in 1957, and Miss Crosby and her parents had lunch together. He took a cab home to shower and shave for the civil ceremonies. That was the last they saw of him.

His whereabouts was a mystery Friday night, and he couldn't be reached for comment.

MEMORIAL

The directors of The State of New York National Bank at their regular monthly meeting held on this 11th day of July 1961, render a sorrowful and meaningful pause in their deliberations to recall and recollect one of their number who has walked through the valley of the shadow of death and has entered the gates of immortal and eternal existence.

Harold F. King departed this life suddenly on June 28, 1961. For many years he served as vice-president of The National Ulster County Bank of Kingston and since the consolidation of that bank with The State of New York National Bank on January 1, 1960, he has served as a Director of the consolidated bank.

During the conferences that eventuated in such consolidation he demonstrated his innate qualities of consideration of others, patience, foresightedness and sound judgment based on a painstaking review of the facts. Since the time of consolidation, he has won the respect and affection of all his fellow members on this Board by his wise counsel, his unfailing courtesy, his considerate and kindly approach to the problems that have come before us. In essence, he was a gentleman in the best and most beloved concept of that term.

We shall miss the gentle yet firm guidance that he has contributed to this Board by virtue of his long experience in banking and by virtue of his intellectual ability in this field.

Harold F. King was a leading business man of this community. He was deeply interested in all things that were good for the community and gave of his advice and time in many unheralded ways. His loyalty to his church was such that he served it as vestryman and warden for over forty years. No greater accolade can be given any man than the simple recognition by his peers, which we now do hereby express as to him, that there was a man of rectitude and honesty, of high principle and of sound and worthy character who walked life's way true to himself and true to the noblest ideals that emphasize the basic spirituality of all men.

Let this memorial be inscribed in full on the minutes of this meeting of the Board of Directors and a copy thereof transmitted to his family.

BRIDGE

Dividend for Not Saving the King

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"God save the king" is a fine motto for England, but there is no reason why bridge players should abide by it.

West opened the queen of hearts against South's three no-trump contract and East made no effort to save his king. He put it right on his partner's queen. Hearts were continued and while South held off until the third lead it did him no good. West's suit was established while he still held the ace of diamonds and South had to go down. Actually, he went down two because he did not cash his eight top tricks.

Five clubs is a cinch against any lead. In fact, six clubs makes against any opening but a heart.

The hand is a hard one to bid, but South should have kept his side out of the no-trump trap by bidding three hearts rather than three no-trump.

West would probably have doubled that for a lead and the double would surely have kept North and South out of no-trump. Even without a double by West it is likely that North would have gone to four clubs over the three-heart bid whereupon South would have closed the bidding at five.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy and Jill a rich widow.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Dividends: Payment of the special government insurance dividend starts on the first of this month and is expected to continue through August. All dividend payments are scheduled to be made by early September. This is a special dividend which is being paid in cash to policyholders of U. S. Government Life Insurance and National Service Life Insurance. Generally USGLI is held by WW 1 veterans and veterans with service before Oct. 1940. NSLI is held by veterans with WW 2 and subsequent service. Generally no dividends will be paid on NSLI policies issued after April 25, 1951. The policyholders who receive regular dividends may expect a special dividend. This includes more than five million veterans. The amount of dividends to be shared is $230 million. This special dividend is in addition to the regular dividends which are paid each year. The regular dividend for 1961 was paid before March 31, 1961. Policyholders do not have to make application to get their special dividend. Dividends will be computed and sent to policyholders automatically.

Civil Service—Veterans, who served any time between April 28, 1952 through July 1, 1955 in the active service of the U. S. armed forces and who were honorably separated from active duty, are entitled to veterans' preference for military and naval personnel who served during these dates also applies to disabled veterans and to wives, widows and mothers of veterans under certain conditions.

Legislation—Hearings have been held by the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs on GI insurance bills pending before it. A large number of these bills propose to reopen the National Service Life Insurance Program for a period of one year. It is the intended purpose of these measures to permit WW II and Korean veterans a year in which to take out NSLI up to the maximum of $10,000. Included in most of the proposals is a provision to charge a small additional premium payment to offset any administrative costs involved.

The House Committee on Veterans' Affairs tentatively has on its agenda measures dealing with a peacetime GI bill for education and training benefits, a review of the amount of non-service disability pension program and the proposal for a court review of decisions made by the Veterans Administration.

Education—Veterans intending to go to school this fall under the Korean GI bill should make application for their educational benefits now. Applications for educational benefits and assistance in completing them may be obtained from this office. Veterans who apply now will speed up the administrative paper work in connection with their attendance at school and thereby enhance their chances of receiving their training allowance without any unnecessary delay. Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to Charles Culver, NYS Veteran Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs or John B. Tyler, Director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main St., Kingston, New York.

Cinemas Presentation

Features New Policy

"Cinema Holiday" the new presentation at the Helman Theatre in Albany, is now entering its last two weeks. Similar to the first two features, the movie takes the form of a trip with Betty and John Marsh of Kansas City and Beatrice and Fred Troller of Zurich, Switzerland. The couples, recently married, go on two separate sight-seeing tours around the world. Director Louis de Rochemont accompanies the couples with his three lens camera as they tour Paris, Switzerland and the rest of Europe and parts of America. From the Can-Can girls at the Lido in Paris, to bobsledding, to Las Vegas, their every move is followed in stereophonic sound and on the screen.

25-Year Pins Given To Bridge Employees

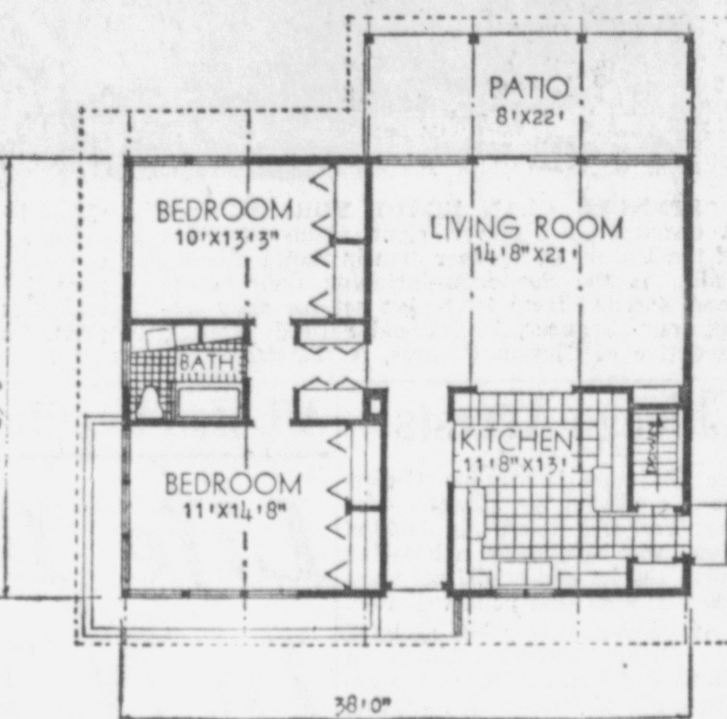

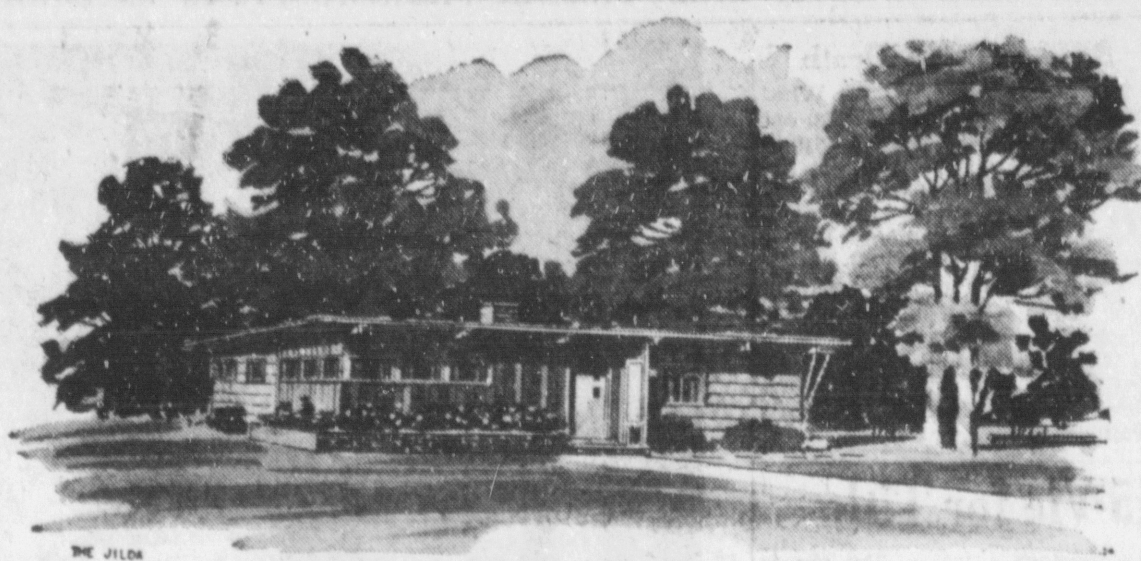

Pins commemorating 25 years of service were awarded to five men at the annual picnic of employees of the New York State Bridge Authority held recently at the Kingston Rhinecliff Bridge.

Presented by Dr. John L. Edwards, authority chairman, the pins were given to Leo H. Leib, Herbert F. Cosgrove, Edward J. Burns, James F. Maguire and Aloysius Curran. The 80 employees at the picnic are members of the authority's chapter of the Civil Service Employees Association, headed by Cecil Brooks.

To Discuss Street Work

Street work to be done by contract is to be discussed soon with contractor James Berardi, Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today. The Common Council recently approved slightly more than $100,000 for the work, which will include replacement of a Chapel Street bridge, work on the Academy Green sidewalk, on DuBois, Maple and Prince Streets and Greenkill Avenue.

2-Bedroom Economy Luxury Home Is Carefully Planned

(By Associated Architects)

"The Jilda," a two-bedroom home offered today by Associated Architects, can be built for the remarkably low price of $10,000—or less. This amazing fact was substantiated by the architects themselves. They had a construction estimate made in the New England area where construction costs generally run higher than in other parts of the country.

The architects were able to do it by following a carefully planned construction technique during the drawing process.

The outside walls consist of standard stud construction, with the use of 4x6 posts in areas where the beams of the flat roof rest or butt. The roof is finished in tongue and groove two-inch planking which is covered with five-ply tar and gravel to insure complete weather protection.

The beams that support the roof are made up of three 2x12's with a 1/2 board between, recessed to carry electrical wiring. The beams are exposed and the bottom edge is covered with a 1x5 finishing strip. This exposure styling is used throughout the home.

It should be noted that with the plans, the blueprints show alternates for building with open beams throughout and also for building with open beams in the living room with the rest of the rooms conventional.

The kitchen is located at the front, a feature which is becoming very popular with new homeowners. Behind it is the living room. Beyond the living room, sliding glass doors lead to a covered patio.

The bath is situated between the two bedrooms on the left. It is easily accessible from any room in the house.

The front entrance opens on a hall, thereby saving wear and tear on the rooms proper. Another entry is located off the kitchen.

The materials list calls for dry-wall construction with the use of Celotex between the ceiling beams. All walls are plasterboard, with the exception of the living room. Here, Philippine mahogany is suggested.

The exterior is constructed of vertical siding and cedar shingles. A brick planter runs along the left front.

The living area of "The Jilda" contains 1,702 square feet with the patio adding 176 square feet. The cubage is 19,590 cubic feet. The home can be built with or without basement. Blueprints are available at moderate cost by using the accompanying coupon for construction with full basement or without basement.

until some cold evening when every part store is closed or sold out.

Seal Up
Check over older furnaces especially for air leaks. Seal with furnace cement. Lubricate moving parts. Make certain that smoke pipe and chimney joints are sealed.

If mortar is crumbling between chimney bricks, clean out loose particles and repair with fresh mortar. Open cleanout door some bright sunny day and see if the chimney needs cleaning. If you are surefooted and feel secure on the roof clean it out. Fill a sack with straw or excelsior, weight it with a rock and lower it with a rope. Shovel out soot from the clean-out opening at the base.

Hammer Dents
To prevent marring the surface when it is necessary to tap a piece of wood to put into position, many handymen slip a cane tip over the end of the hammer handle. The handle end is used as a persuader, while the cane tip provides a stop on the handle and makes it easier to hold.

Fill Tank
If you have a gas furnace it's wise to leave the pilot burning all year round. The small amount of heat generated will keep the air inside the furnace dry.

If there's any evidence of dirt clinging to the inside of the furnace the pipes are probably dirty too. Take a section down and check. If they need it disassemble the pipes and clean with a long handled brush. If any pipes are beginning to rust through, replace them.

Gas furnace controls should be checked and regulated by a service man. In some areas the gas company will provide some of this service.

Porch Serves Many Purposes

Porchs are making a comeback.

The reason: A porch is a delightful place to relax in rocking chair or hammock as you listen to the birds and watch the summer rain. It is utilitarian.

A porch answers a multitude of needs. It's a place to hold a child's party; feed your guests, pen small fry as they play or sit and chat when the house is roasting and rain keeps you off the lawn. It's an ideal place to serve family meals whether you build it front, back or on the side of the house.

The do-it-yourselfer should find a porch easy to build, add little to the taxes and may not even require a building permit.

A roofed porch floor usually is of a softwood such as southern pine. If the floor is not roofed over or not well ventilated, it should be floored with decay-resistant wood such as redwood or southern cypress. Square edged boards laid with tight joints can be used. There may be a little shrinkage.

Shed roofs are usual for porches. Methods of bracing roofs vary but directions may be obtained at lumber yards or from public libraries. Rafter, joints and studs make it all sound complicated but it really isn't for one who has had a little home building experience. Asbestos shingling is about the easiest to handle. Slaters require cutting with a special knife, a skill best left to professional roofers. Terneplate often is used on low-pitched porch roofs but it too should be applied by an experienced roofer or metal worker. It requires pointing to keep from rusting.

A foundation for a porch usually is posts of stone laid in mortar and poured concrete. Wood often is used as piers for porches, but eventually the porch will sag.

It is easy to use screening. But firm screening is best for a no-sag look. Decide whether you'd like the porch to be a combination glass and screen porch eventually. Glass offers the opportunity to use the porch on cool days, and perhaps even through cold weather with the addition of heat. If you want to use glass windows, the method of applying the screening will be different, even though you do not put the windows in at once.

State Checking Bingo Operation In Buffalo Area

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — State investigators reportedly are checking the operation of bingo games in the Buffalo area to determine if commercial interests have become involved.

The agents have conferred with police and the Erie County district attorney's staff, and are believed to be gathering information on all games being held by veterans, civic and religious groups under supervision of the state lottery control commission.

A Moreland Act investigating agency has been set up by the state to continue a bingo investigation begun by the State Investigation commission.

A commission spokesman said a study that produced evidence of professional gamblers getting control of bingo games in other parts of the state would not be expanded.

F.H. Burns, Leader For Seaway Plan, Dies in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — F. Hugh Burns, a leader in the long campaign to build the St. Lawrence Seaway, died Friday in a hospital after a heart attack. He was 65.

Burns was a vice president and director of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association and secretary and a director of the International Economic Policy Association.

He moved to Washington in 1950 from his native Ogdensburg, N.Y., where he had been president of the Chamber of Commerce. He also had been president of the now-defunct Northern New York Federation of Chambers of Commerce.

A brother, Francis B. Burns, is mayor of Ogdensburg.

Other survivors include his wife, the former Lena Long; a daughter, Mrs. Christopher Christensen of Rochester, N.Y.; a son, Frederick of Washington; another brother, Joseph M. of Radburn, N.J., and three sisters, Mrs. Sophia B. Byrrell of Ogdensburg, Mrs. Lynn Wright of Mohawk, N.Y., and Mrs. Frank Benz of Ulster, N.Y.

The funeral and burial will be in Ogdensburg.

Woman Without Food After Breaking Hip

NORTH LEEDS, Maine (AP) — An 85-year-old widow was reported in satisfactory condition today although she lay on her kitchen floor with a fractured hip without food or water for three days.

A milkman, making his weekly stop, found Mrs. Bessie Ryder on the floor Friday. She had covered herself with a floor rug.

A spokesman at a Lewiston hospital — where Mrs. Ryder was taken — said her condition is satisfactory.

No 1943 Copper Pennies Issued, U.S. Says Again

WATERLOO, N. Y. (AP) — An amateur coin collector said Friday he had found a 1943 copper penny, which he believed to be worth thousands, but U.S. Mint officials said no such coins ever were issued.

Russell Sterlizza said a coin dealer offered $10,000-$25,000 for such a coin last year, reported to be the second coin of its kind in existence.

A Mint official in Washington said, however, that only zinc pennies were issued in 1943 when the government tried to conserve copper. He said several copper pennies bearing that date have appeared but that they had been copper-plated or their dates had been altered.

Two Women Die In Auto Crash

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Two elderly women were killed Friday when the small, foreign automobile in which they were riding and a station wagon collided at an intersection on the city's outskirts.

Killed were Mrs. Maude Brownell, 85, a retired schoolteacher and Mrs. Frank Tiedeman, about 70, both of Gloversville.

Mrs. Tiedeman's husband, a retired chief of the Gloversville Fire Department, was reported in critical condition today at a hospital.

Tiedeman was a member of the city fire department for 50 years. He was chief from 1939 until 1955, when he retired.

Line Plans to Extend Service to Great Lakes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moore-McCormack Lines Inc. plans to extend several of its international routes to Great Lakes ports via the St. Lawrence Seaway, the Federal Maritime Board reports.

The board said Friday the steamship line will be permitted to serve the ports on its routes to South America, South and East Africa and the Scandinavian and Baltic countries.

The line was the first to respond to a recent Maritime Administration invitation to U.S.-flag lines to extend service to the lakes for a four-year, developmental period.

2 Teeners Lose Lives in Crash

RONKONKOMA, N.Y. (AP) — A convertible carrying eight teenagers went out of control on a rain-swept road early today, turning over and killing two of its occupants.

The dead were identified as Marie Hartenstein, 17, and John Sciotti, 16, both of Ronkonkoma, L.I.

Three of the teen-agers were injured, none seriously.

Clear Way for Carrier

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Delaware River channel will be cleared today to allow the departure of the new aircraft carrier, the U.S.S. Kitty Hawk, on a shakedown cruise.

Col. T. H. Settle of the Army engineers announced Friday that the channel will be closed to other vessels for two hours to avoid mishaps. The huge carrier is headed for the Caribbean and then San Francisco.

Albion Vol Dies, One of Oldest On Active Rolls

ALBION, N. Y. (AP) — One of the oldest active volunteer firemen in New York State is dead at 81. He was Chester R. Hakes of Albion, who died Friday after a lengthy illness.

Hakes joined the Albion Fire Department in 1899, and had been secretary of the Dye Hose Co., of that department since 1913.

Georgie Settles Suit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian George Jessel, 63, says he has settled a paternity suit brought by actress Joan Tyler and hopes to be married—but not to Miss Tyler.

Jessel Friday identified his intended bride as Marjorie May, a red-haired actress who—like Miss Tyler—is 27.

Miss Tyler, who has said she expects her child in December, disclosed a week ago that she planned to drop her suit against Jessel. At the same time, she said she and the comedian probably would marry.

Ford Worker Killed

GREEN ISLAND, N. Y. (AP) — Andrew Kostun Jr., 47, a floor inspector at the Ford Motor Co. plant here, was killed at work Friday when struck in the chest by a metal block that had been placed in a press.

Kostun lived in Watervliet.

A spokesman said the accident was the first fatal one in the plant's 38-year history.

Monroe School Post to Folsam

Rocky Gives School Job To Ex-Eisenhower Aide

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today appointed Marion B. Folsam, former secretary of the Health, Education and Welfare Department and former undersecretary of the Treasury, to the board of trustees of the proposed Monroe County Community College.

Folsam, of Rochester, served in the federal posts during the Eisenhower administration. His term on the college board will end June 30, 1963.

Rockefeller also named these others to the board of trustees: Vincent S. Jones of Rochester, executive editor of the Gannett Newspapers, vice president of the State Society of Newspaper Editors and former president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association. His term ends June 30, 1969.

Dr. Wilbur Eddy Saunders of Webster, president-emeritus and a trustee of Colgate Rochester Divinity School. His term ends June 30, 1963.

Mrs. James T. Young of Rochester, a supervising teacher at School No. 19. Her term ends June 30, 1967.

Trustees are not paid salaries. Rockefeller also appointed Mrs. Ruth H. Goetz of East Hills, Roslyn Heights to the board of visitors of Westfield State Farm, Bedford Hills, for a term ending February 1968. She succeeds Mrs. Hilda Leff of Great Neck, whose term has expired.

The governor reappointed Assemblyman Kenneth R. Willard of Nunda to the council of the State College of Education at Genesee for a term ending July 1, 1970. No salary is paid.

Six Firms Ask Court to Throw Out Damage Suits

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six electrical equipment manufacturers have asked U.S. District Court to throw out $12 million damage suits filed against them by the federal government and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The companies, convicted earlier of price-fixing and bid-rigging, answered the suit Friday by denying allegations that the TVA had lost the money on purchases of power transformers, switchgear assemblies, turbine generators and distributor transformers.

The six companies—Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, Allis-Chalmers, McGraw Edison Electric, Federal Pacific, and Wagner Electric—added that the government's reference to the price-fixing and bid-rigging indictments was "highly prejudicial, immaterial and incompetent."

U.S. District Judge J. Cullen Gandy gave the companies until June 15 to answer the government, but both sides agreed to a month's extension. The suit was filed March 14.

Dies of Stab Wound

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — A 32-year-old man has died of a stab wound which police said he received during an argument with a 25-year-old woman after he allegedly swore at the woman's child.

Clinton Mingo died Friday night in Emergency Hospital after having been stabbed once in the chest, police said.

Mrs. Mary Ashley Lane was being held at police headquarters. Mrs. Lane said she had intended to scare Mingo with the knife after he allegedly swore at her two-year-old son, police said.

Both Mingo and Mrs. Lane were Negroes.

Hamburg Gets Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service has granted Hamburg, N.Y., $250,000 for constructing a primary sewage plant, an interceptor and a pumping station.

The service announced Friday it also granted Buffalo $31,000 for a $93,000 remodeling project of that city's Children's Hospital.

Sun and Moon Compete for Control of Earth's Vast Oceans

Suppose someone were to ask you, "Why is the ocean blue?"

The answer is, "It isn't blue." Dr. John T. McGill of the geology department of the University of California at Los Angeles recently revealed this and a lot more information about the ocean. He said: "Instead of a blue ocean, we really see blue light."

"The reds and most of the yellows in the rainbow are absorbed by the passage of the sun's rays into the water and back to view, filtering out all but the blues."

Dr. McGill compared the ocean to a thin vegetable soup. He continued:

"The reason some of our coastal waters appear more green than blue is that the abundant marine plants living there—the algae, for instance—are commonly green, causing the water to reflect more of that color."

He also explained that the "red tide" that hits certain coastlines is caused by microscopic little animals containing reddish or brown pigments. The animals are always present to some extent, but they suddenly begin to reproduce rapidly each summer and the copperish looking water results.

Dr. McGill defined a wave as: "Ripples on the sea's surface caused by wind blowing over the water."

He said waves may travel much or all of the distance across the ocean. He likened their movement to that of a field of wheat. He explained: "The grain doesn't travel. Neither does the water. But the waves do."

He said that calm waves became breakers as they approach the shore's shallow waters. They do this because the friction of the bottom causes them to rise higher, then topple over and break. Finally, Dr. McGill said that tides are caused by the gravitational pull of the moon and the sun. He said further: "The strongest pull comes from the moon because it is closer to the earth. As the earth rotates on its axis and the moon revolves around the earth, a tidal bulge stays on the side nearest the moon."

How Much Do You Know About Stamps?

What is a postage stamp? How long have postage stamps been used?

How many kinds of postage are there? What are they?

Try to recall the last stamp you have seen on a letter or package. What color was it? What picture was on it? Why was this picture used?

If you are a stamp collector, you probably know the answers to most of these questions. But you don't have to buy stamps and mount them in a collection to enjoy learning more about them. Just take a magnifying glass and look carefully at those that come to your house on the mail.

Try to find out as much as you can about them and the pictures on them. You can get much of this information by going to your post office and asking questions.

Many people, even collectors, cannot give the correct answer to the question, "What is a postage stamp?" Try it on your friends and see what they tell you.

Most people think of stamps as pieces of colored paper with pictures and words printed on them that you fasten to letters or packages in order to get them carried in the mail from one place to another.

This is a correct statement of what stamps look like and what you do with them, but it does not explain exactly what they are.

A stamp is a kind of receipt. It is proof that the amount of money shown on the stamp has been paid to the post office. Because this money has been paid, the post office will send and deliver the letter or package the stamp is fastened to.

The amount of money a stamp costs at the post office is called its face value or denomination. There are different stamps for the different kinds of classes of postage, and the more a letter or package weighs, the more the post office charges to carry it.

Many different face values of stamps are printed. Do you have any idea how many different face values are now on sale at the post office? What is the face value of the stamps you see most often? Have you ever seen a ½c stamp? 2½c? $1.00? $5.00?

After all the stamps of a certain design have been sold and cannot be bought at the post office, they may cost more than face value if you want to buy them. If most of them are used and destroyed or mounted and they become scarce, they may cost a great deal.

Most of the stamps now being issued by our government are not likely to become rare, since more than 100 million copies are being printed of each 4c commemorative, and many more millions of ordinary stamps.

—S. G. Morton

Linking of the East and West by rail is the subject of this 1944 postage stamp.

The Savannah, first steamship across the Atlantic, is remembered here.

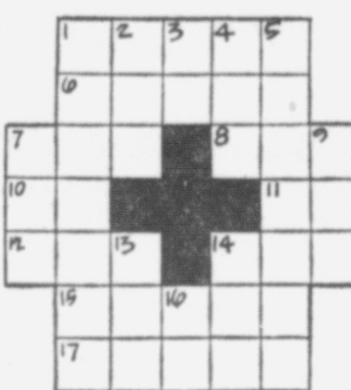

The great American game of baseball was commemorated on a stamp 100 years after its invention.

Nature's Armored Tanks—Turtles—Run Slowest Race

Hey, what's the big idea?" The tall boy watched his neighbor splashing paint on the shell of his turtle. "Looks like a patchwork quilt."

The younger boy grinned. "Speedball's going to be in the turtle races at Joshua Tree. Better come and watch him win."

"I'll betcha they're the slowest races on earth," the tall boy said.

And that's just what they are. Every year turtle races are staged by the citizens of the desert town of Joshua Tree, Calif. Turtles of all ages and sizes are brought in and cared for until the races, which are run in heats for three days. You can bring your own pet, rent one from the "corral," or just be a spectator.

The first Derby was held 16 years ago. A section of the street was closed to traffic and the turtles were lined up behind the goal line. But something was wrong. Unaware of the fact that they were supposed to be racing, the shell-backed creatures ambled off in all directions. "How about a circular track?" someone suggested. That did it.

Now a circle 90 feet in diameter is chalked in white. In its center is the starting gate, a small chicken wire cage with a tall pole in the center. Inside, as many as 50 turtles can be placed, facing outward, to give them a head start. A whistle blows, the gate is raised, and the race is on.

"Hi, Tweedledum, shake a leg!"

"Attaboy, Churchy, get going!" The owners, called jockeys, cheer and encourage their steeds from the sidelines. A racer may stop to rest. Or be distracted by a scrap of paper fluttering across his path and change his direction a foot from the finish line.

Sixteen or more races are run and the first three turtles crossing the line in each are declared winners and entered in the Grand National Sweepstakes.

Turtles measure from 2 to 16 inches in length, and weigh up to 15 pounds. Separate heats are run for peewees, middle-sized and heavyweights. Each tortoise has a number painted on its shell with bright orange water color.

Besides painting the shells, some owners decorate their racers with ribbons, miniature flags, autos or airplanes.

When the races are over, the participants are set free to poke off to their favorite haunts.

A turtle named Speedy holds the track record, 45 feet in 24 seconds, set in 1952. At that rate, it could do a mile in 47 minutes flat. That is, if it didn't have other things on its mind.

Prospective Bride of Robert E. Crowley

JEANNE MARIE MISASI

Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Misasi of Glasco have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jeanne Marie, to Robert E. Crowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crowley of Westbrookville, N. Y.

The bride-elect attended Saugerties High School and is now employed by IBM. Her fiancé attended Otisville High and has served three years with the U. S. Navy. He is employed by Miron Lumber Company.

The wedding date is set for October 15.

Wed; Ceremony at Tillson Reformed Church

Exchanging nuptial vows on Sunday, July 9 at the Tillson Reformed Church were Judith Ann Clark of Tillson and Robert Leon Renker of Kingston. Officiating at the 2 p. m. ceremony was the Rev. Herbert Killander of Ulster Park. William G. Dunn was organist and John S. Rich, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth K. Clark of Tillson. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Renker of Austin, Texas.

For the wedding the church was decorated with white delphinium and gladioli. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. John S. Rich of Tillson. Attendants were Miss Diane Deyo, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Daniel J. Peischel Jr., High Falls. Wendy Sue and Cheryl Lee Rich, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls.

J. Samuel Renker Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushering were David W. Watson, Saugerties, and Lloyd L. Hollis of Kingston.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of white organza posed over bridal taffeta and fashioned with a molded bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a scooped neckline. The full skirt swept back into a chapel length circular train. The bodice and skirt featured appliques of Alencon lace. Her wide French illusion veil was shirred to a crown of waxed orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of white orchids and stephanotis.

The matron of honor and attendants wore gowns sheer chiffon over taffeta styled with fitted bodices, abbreviated sleeves and circular necklines. Their bouffant skirts were street length and the waistlines were encircled with matching cummerbunds. They also wore large open crown picture hats and carried bouquets of pink Sensation roses. The honor attendant wore a romance blue and the attendants were attired in ballet blue. Ballet blue was also chosen for the flower girls who also carried baskets of pink Sensation roses.

A reception was given at the Brookside Restaurant on Lucas Avenue extension after the church ceremony. Afterwards, the couple left on a wedding trip to Texas. The bride wore a pink sheath with matching accessories and a white orchid.

Mrs. Renker was graduated from Kingston High School and was employed as a stenographer at the Myron J. Michael School, this city. Her husband, an alumnus of the University of Texas, has a BS degree in electrical engineering. A member of the New York National Guard in Kingston, Mr. Renker was employed by IBM here. He is now with Texas Instruments in Houston, Texas where the couple plan to reside.

SLOPPY DRESSING BY TEEN-AGERS

Q: My seventeen-year-old daughter has been dating a young man of the same age for the past two months. On Saturday nights they usually go to the movies and then stop somewhere for something to eat. He seems to be a very nice boy, but I object to the way he dresses when he comes to call for my daughter. She is always dressed very nicely, but he invariably arrives in slacks and sport shirt open at the neck and no tie. When I mentioned this to my daughter she just laughed and said that I was very old-fashioned and that all boys dressed that way. I think this is very uncomplimentary to a girl and that it implies he doesn't care enough about her to dress properly. I would like your opinion on this.

A: I agree with you wholeheartedly; but unless the girls themselves take a stand against it by refusing to go out with boys who are careless about the way they dress, I'm afraid there is little you can do about it.

Tipping Waitress at Resort Hotel

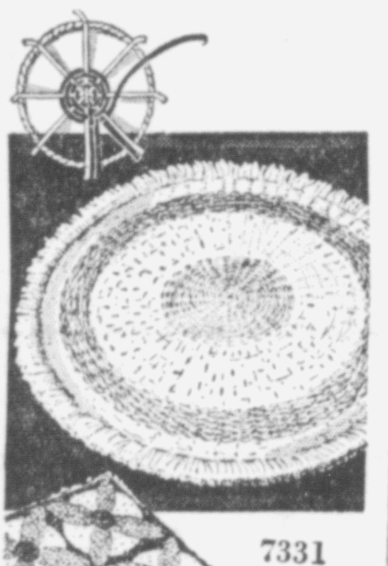

Q: I am staying for the summer at a small resort hotel where I have the same waitress serving me regularly. I give her a tip at the end of each week. On the weekends my daughter and her husband come up and visit me and I have them as guests at my table. Should my son-in-law tip the waitress when he leaves, or is my usual amount sufficient?

A: As they are your guests, you add a reasonable portion to your usual tip and give it to the waitress.

Q: A young friend has been married six months and kept it a secret. (In her office they let married women go). As she now is having a baby, she is up against not knowing what to do to offset possible gossip. Is it too late for her family to send marriage announcements?

A: On the contrary, her family not only may, but should send announcements at once giving the actual date of her marriage.

Home Extension Service News

Phyllis W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent, Ulster County Extension Service Association, writes about soap in today's article.

Confused by some of the terms you see in soap ads? Here's a brief guide to what is meant by hard milled or French milled. This term refers to a manufacturing process in which soap is put through heavy rollers to remove excess air, making the bar smoother, more compact, and longer lasting. All bar toilet soaps (except the floating kind) are hard milled.

CASTILE — Originally this term applied to soaps with olive oil, like those from ancient Castile, in Spain. Today, however, Federal Trade Commission rules permit the use of the term for any mild soap made with vegetable oils—"pure" soap. So if you want an olive oil soap, make sure the label reads "Castile made with 100 per cent olive oil."

Fashion Ruling Made

At least one aspect of women's fashions has been settled. While the annual Parisian controversy rages over the length of skirts and dresses, Secretary of State Caroline K. Simon today calmly ruled that one-quarter length sleeves will be the approved style for hairdressers uniforms for some time to come, although the three-quarter length may still be worn.

Since the Department of State is the official licensing agency for cosmetologists, among many other professions, no controversy is expected over this fashion decree. Mrs. Simon pointed out that she signed the new ruling after consulting the Department's Hairdressing and Cosmetology Advisory Committee.

"This is another attempt to bring practical common sense to the working of rules and regulations which are designed to protect the public," said Mrs. Simon, who recently issued a regulation permitting consumption of food in beauty parlors providing that proper sanitation rules were observed. "Many beauty parlors are not air conditioned, and the old rule requiring three-quarter length sleeves was neither comfortable nor necessary."

While the Houses of Dior and Balenciaga prepare for battle, quiet reigns in one corner of the fashion field.

Famous Cookbooks at Cornell

A collection of several hundred early edition cookbooks, thought to be possibly the finest in existence, is in the library of Cornell University's Hotel Management School in Ithaca, according to a report from the New York State Woman's Program. Some of the books, which were presented to the school by Mrs. E. M. Statler, were collected originally by Joseph Dommers Vehling, a chef who used to commute from Chicago to teach at the Hotel School one day a week. Another part of the library's culinary collection was left to the school by James B. Herndon Jr., who died in 1953. Mr. Herndon was chairman of the board of the American Hotel Association and a vice president of the Hilton Hotels. He gathered his prize copies over a period of 20 years.

Included in the collection is a 1924-27 translation from Latin, by Joseph Vehling, of the oldest known cookbook—"Apicius Coelius De Arte Coquinaria." The Women's Program staff, perusing the manuscript, found the following comments from Mr. Vehling:

"Gastronomical insanities, follies and vices of such as Nero were far beyond and spread over centuries. The daily grind of the average Roman was meager. He was miserably fed. In Caesar's and Augustus' reigns, law limited the sum that could be spent for public and private dinners and inspectors checked every party." Bootleg cookery resulted, and gourmets went underground, Mr. Vehling said. He noted, too, that the Greeks showed Romans how to cook and how to fatten chickens.

Mr. Vehling's translation includes chapters on keeping foods, and recipes for such gourmet dishes as roast suckling pig glazed in honey; asparagus cooked in coconut milk (place it in boiling liquid "backwards," directions say); and pumpkin steamed with hen, garnished with peaches and truffles and seasoned with herbs, caraway, oil and vinegar. Quantities were often omitted. An illustration in the famous translation, pictures a Pompeian bronze and marble table which could be lowered in height or collapsed to store flat, very similar to designs around today.

Among other unique books in the collection is a 1621 German book on carving; a 1688 London book on banquets with pages that open out to reveal the full banquet table laden with foods; and a 1749 French manuscript of a menu from the court of King Louis XV which includes amounts and costs of food ordered; a collection of ancient English cookery, "receipts" by King Richard's master cooks; and a 200-page handwritten German manuscript of the 17th Century.

In a 1736 copy of "Bailey's Household Dictionary for the Use of Both City and Country Shewing," there are directions for hiving bees, herb healing, making lozenges of buttered oyster shells to cure heartburn, and a "recipe" for an "extraordinarily good" plum cake made of 3½ pounds of fine flour and 1½ pounds of butter. Recipes are mixed in with household hints. Directions for grinding rice for flour to make rice pudding follows a cure for rheumatism that included asparagus root, treacle and nettles.

gents, a relatively new entry in the toilet-soap field. Though seldom described as such on the label, toilet detergents can be identified by statements that they work well in hard water and eliminate bathtub rings. They are different from household detergents, and are no harder on skin than soap. They do produce finer suds, which tend to cling to the skin, so rinse well when using them.

ALL-WATER SOAPS—These are either detergents or soaps made with special oils. Both resist combining with minerals abundant in hard water. It's this reaction that cuts the lathering action and produces scum when ordinary soaps are used in hard water.

SUPER-FATTED—This term is applied to soaps to which lanolin, cold cream, or some other fat or oil has been added. The purpose of the addition is to neutralize the slightly drying effect of soap on some types of skin, not to lubricate the skin as face creams do. Super-fatted soaps leave dry or sensitive skin more pliable, eliminate that "stretched" feeling.

DEODORANT—Most perspiration, as secreted by the sweat glands, is odorless. It's the action of bacteria present on the skin that causes the odor. All soaps will remove some of these bacteria by washing them away. But detergent soaps also contain a special ingredient, often hexachlorophene, which discourages the growth of bacteria. They're especially helpful in preventing odor in such areas as the back of the neck, the feet, which you might not realize need protection.

MEDICATED—Advertised as helpful for skin conditions such as acne. Some medicated soaps are essentially the same as deodorant soaps. They contain a bacteria-destroying ingredient. This can be helpful in preventing the spread of an infection and may help to clear up the infection itself. Other medicated soaps may contain such substances as sulphur or tar to dry up excessive oiliness or flake off dead skin.

Metallic Shirtwaist Dresses for Mature Women Introduced

AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Until Thursday America's forgotten women of fashion were the middle-aged, the wide in girth, and the slim of purse.

Some of these were among the more than 200 news writers here for the New York couture group's semiannual Fashion Press Week.

Earlier this week, while watching a continuous parade of skinny girls in winter styles, they pondered how these bust-less, pencil-slim suits and dresses would look in size 44.

But things took a turn for the better Thursday. A session was dedicated to the beauty problems of the nation's 25 million silver-haired ladies. A hair-coloring firm admitted that since it has failed to lick 68 per cent of these women who stubbornly refuse to dye their tresses, it has joined them. The company is now making products to improve sheen, tone and manageability of gray hair.

Later in the day, gaunt, slumped-shouldered models without a need to hide big hips, thighs or thick waistlines lined the runway in Larry Aldrich dresses that obviously translate flatteringly to a woman with meat on her bones. The long casual lines were waist-slumping, and the swingy, bias-cut skirts provided plenty of sit-down room.

Crisply tailored gold and silver metallic shirtwaist dresses were Aldrich's idea of cocktail dresses. A mature woman could wear one without feeling like the star in a Las Vegas night club act.

Frangello-Steltz Wedding Is Announced; Exchange Vows Before Nuptial Mass July 8

MRS. KENNETH STELTZ

Before a nuptial Mass at St. Joseph's Church in Glasco, on Saturday, July 8 at 11 a. m., Miss Rose Marie Frangello of Saugerties exchanged vows with Kenneth Steltz of Kingston. Officiating was the Rev. John A. Steltz, assistant pastor of St. Athanasius and teacher at Cardinal Hayes High School. Patricia Buonfiglio was organist. Miss Theresa Sasso sang the Ave Maria.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frangello of Saugerties. The bridegroom is the son of John Steltz of Kingston and the late Mercedes Steltz.

The couple exchanged wedding rings. White daisy pompons decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, James V. Frangello. She wore a floor length gown of silk organza fashioned with a fitted bodice, scalloped neckline and three quarter length sleeves. Her crown held a silk illusion finger-tip veil. She carried a white lace missal with cymbidium orchids, stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Anne Hinkley, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor in an aqua silk organza street length gown with fitted bodice, scooped neckline and abbreviated sleeves. She carried an arm basket with aqua, yellow and white daisy pompons and baby's breath.

Daniel Steltz of Kingston was best man for his brother. After the church ceremony, members of the immediate families were received at a reception held in Aiello's Restaurant, East Chester Street.

For her wedding trip to Cape Cod, the bride wore a pink silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Steltz attended Saugerties High School and was graduated from the Central Academy of Beauty Culture in Newburgh. She is employed by the Artistic Beauty Salon. Her husband, who attended Kingston High School, served two years with the U. S. Army. He is employed by IBM in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Steltz will be at home at 62 Lincoln Street, this city.

Completes Training

Army National Guard Specialist Four Robert Linzey, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Linzey, West Camp, completed the eight-week cooking course at the Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, Va., July 7.

During the course Specialist Linzey received training in cooking, cake and pastry baking, meat cutting and operating a field kitchen.

Specialist Linzey is regularly assigned to the 105th Infantry's Company B, an Army National Guard unit in Catskill. Linzey attended Saugerties High School.

CHRIS P. CHAFOULEAS

Kingston Boy Is Selected for Trip To Greece July 28

Chris Peter Chafouleas, son of Mrs. Peter Chafouleas of Kingston, was selected by the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of New York to participate in a pilgrimage to Greece. He will be one of a group of 80 children between the ages of 13 to 15 and all of whom are children of Greek-American parents.

The group will leave July 28 on the SS Queen Frederica. Accompanying them will be His Eminence Archbishop Iakovos, spiritual head of North and South America for the Greek Orthodox Church.

The children were selected for the trip on the basis of their knowledge of the Greek language and their religious education. While in Greece, they will be guests of the Bankers of Greece. Their itinerary will include a tour of all the historical and religious sites.

Chris is the grandson of Mrs. Peter Cuneveles of 126 Emerson Street, this city.

No Contamination From Atomic Car In Syracuse Crash

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — No contamination resulted when a flatcar carrying an Atomic Energy Commission shipment was derailed here, an AEC representative on the train says.

The flatcar, loaded with casks of apparently radioactive material, and a caboose, carrying AEC representatives, went off the rails Friday as a long New York Central freight train entered yards on the north edge of Syracuse. The flatcar was next to the caboose at the rear of the train.

Bill Blount, an AEC representative, said there were no injuries and no damage resulted. "There will be no AEC radiation or investigation teams called to the scene," he added.

The shipment was bound from Chalk River, Ont., to the AEC's Savannah River operations office at Aiken, S.C., Blount said. The cause of the derailment was not determined immediately. Blount said the front end of the flatcar jumped the rails on a sharp curve and it and the caboose landed upright on adjoining tracks. The freight was traveling about 10 miles an hour.

Railroad crews restored service last night.

State Seeks Land
MASSENA, N. Y. (AP) — The State Council of Parks wants to acquire 11 acres of the old Schoellkopf power plant site at Niagara Falls.

A committee was formed Friday to investigate purchase of the site, which is part of a 12-mile section of parkway between North Grand Island the Niagara Power plant.

Floods Oust 50,000

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Fifty thousand persons were homeless today in Poona, 75 miles south-east of Bombay, as a result of floods earlier in the week that claimed 59 lives after the rain-swollen Mutha River burst a dam.

Armstrong Ineligible For Football at Harvard

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Whatever the day or month of the year, the Woodstock Open remains the glamor golf tournament in this part of the country. The tradition-rich, 27-hole Woodstock classic is renewed Monday and the high drama involved centers around the Northeastern PGA pros' attempt to contain the rising power of the mid-Hudson area amateurs.

The amateur threat is more menacing this season, not only because Bill Van Aken, the defending champion, is on hand, but because of the IBM vacation schedule. Normally, an amateur has to take a day off from work to compete in the Open. This time several topnotch IBM golfers, both in Kingston and Poughkeepsie, will be free to compete.

Van Aken's game is at razor edge, but the threat from Leon Randall, George Hughes and others cannot be minimized. Amateurs have led the field three times in recent years. Sig Makofski, the brilliant ex-athletic director at Mont Pleasant High (Schenectady) won it in 1950 with the second lowest score on record, 32-34-33-99. Carlton Traver, the crack Rhinebeck amateur, led the field with 103 in 1954, when Alex Gerlak fired a birdie-3 on the 28th hole to beat Scotty Robertson of Wiltwyck for top professional money.

• The Woods Are Full:

Last year, of course, it was strictly an amateur show with Van Aken, Bill Waterous (Woodstock club champion) and veteran Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, locked in a tie for first place with 101. Waterous went out on the first extra hole, billows on the 2nd when Van Aken spanked an iron shot inches from the cup.

The detractors chide Woodstock's gentle, rolling layout, nestled under Overlook Mountain, as a "pitch and putt" course, but the records refute this ancient theory. No big bomber has ever won the Woodstock Open. It takes a carefully controlled short game and good putting. Two of the Northeastern's biggest bombers — Steve Savel of Western Turnpike and Steve Kay, who popularized the "dynamic swing" at Sharon Springs — never came close in this annual classic. Savel, as a matter of fact, has "picked up" on occasion. The Woodstock course always reminds one about the old golf adage, "There's nothing special about long ball hitters. The woods are full of them."

If Bob Mix, the current No. 1 glamor boy of the Northeastern circuit is on hand, the above theory may be challenged. Mix is not only the finest golfer in the Northeast at the moment, but also the longest hitter. Can he succeed where such as Kay and Savel have failed? Monday will tell.

• Too Tough for Kals:

Louise Suggs, golf's leading lady money-winner, says in Golf Digest that few girls are willing to make the sacrifices necessary to become a successful pro. She adds: "Girls who come from close home ties seldom fit in. When a girl whose life has been centered around home thinks about moving out into the professional golf world, the adjustment needed is sometimes more than she can take, or even attempt to take. So they remain amateurs."

Jim Ferrier, 45-year-old former national PGA champion, who this year returned to the tour after a long absence says: "Today's pros hit longer, putt better." In comparing today's tour with that of 20 years ago he laments: "We used to play on a higher percentage of good golf courses than now."

Su Mac Lad is Big Favorite In Roosevelt International

Six of the world's best trotters, including America's Su Mac Lad, the 7-5 favorite, match strides tonight in the third renewal of the $50,000 International Trot at Roosevelt Raceway.

Kracovic, an artichoke-eating French entry, is rated best of the foreign horses, at 7-2. No American horse has ever finished better than third in the 1 1/4 mile event.

Also competing will be France's La Charmeuse, Italy's Tornese, Canada's Tie Silk and America's Merrie Duke.

At New York State tracks Friday night, purses for features totalled almost as much as the International Trot offers.

Batavia Favored — Camas B. nosed out Davens Darn Safe to win the $7,500 first start of the Autumn Gold trotting series which opened the track's 92-day meeting. One of the harness world's biggest winners, with more than $410,000 earnings, Darn Safe had taken the lead from Camas B. at the half, only to lose it in a photo finish. Posting a 2:02 1-5 mile Camas B. paid $9.70.

Summer Prince was third. Overall night attendance was 6,485. Vernon Downs — Lehigh Hanover took the $13,350 Billy Direct Pace for two-year-old colts in 2:07 1-5. Driven by Stanley Dancer, the winner paid $9.00. Coffee Break, winner of the second elimination heat, finished second and Tarport Boy third. Buckeye Champ won the first elimination heat.

Saratoga Raceway — Scott Hill regained the lead after losing and took the $5,000 Lake Placid Pace in 2:04 2-5. Piloted by owner Frog Redden, he paid $8.10. Pioneer Pick was next and Newport Amigo a close third.

Roosevelt Raceway — Muncy Hanover, a leading pacer last year won its first start of the season in the featured $4,000 Class AA-2 Pace. Muncy Hanover, reined by Earle Avery, stepped the mile in 2:01 2-5 to pay $3.70. Glenville was a length behind as they crossed the wire. Brenda Eden took third place.

Kingston Athlete Is on Scholastic Year Probation

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Hobie Armstrong, one of the greatest runners in the history of the DUSO Football League and the leading ground gainer as a sophomore at Harvard last season, has been declared academically ineligible for the sport this fall. The loss of Armstrong is considered a near fatal blow to Harvard's Ivy League hopes.

The 5-11, 195-pounder was the top ball carrier for the Crimson last season with 339 yards in 79 attempts for an average of 4.3. Coach John Yovician felt that Armstrong could have been one of the most explosive backs in the storied history of the league.

Armstrong told this reporter that he has been put on probation.

HOBBIE ARMSTRONG

tion at the school for one term because of two unsatisfactory marks. He passed the subjects but two of the grades were below the requirements needed in order to play football. Hobie said he will continue at Harvard and he hopes to bring his marks up to a higher grade so that he will be able to play football during his senior year.

Chances Are Hurt

The speedy halfback would have been only one of two backfield operatives back from the Crimson this season. In fact he was considered the key in the pennant hopes of the school. Without Armstrong, Harvard is figured as an also-ran. With Hobie in the lineup, the team's chances would be brightened considerably.

During his three years as a running terror in the DUSO league, Kingston High enjoyed its greatest football success. He never played on a losing team in high school as the Maroon squads won 22 of 23 games from 1953-58. The only blemish on the record was a tie.

Armstrong made the All-DUSO first team during those years. His greatest season was in 1957 when he scored 15 touchdowns and made 12 extra points for a total of 102 points. A leg injury curtailed his running during the senior year but he still managed eight touchdowns and 14 extra points.

After receiving offers from colleges throughout the country, Armstrong selected Harvard where the standards are high and where the athletes have to work as hard as anyone else. Now the team will have to suffer through an entire season while Hobie hits the books and brings his marks up to their high level again.

Softball Tourney Set

Managers of teams interested in participating in the annual Mid Hudson Valley Blue Ribbon Invitational Softball tournament are asked to contact Joseph Costine, 169 Rochdale Road, Poughkeepsie. The tourney is scheduled the weekends of Aug. 5 and 6 and Aug. 12 and 13.

Glenrie Club Bridge Results

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yallum of Kingston posted a 58 per cent game to pace the North-South side of the Glenrie Club tournament. Dr. Paul Perlman and his son, Preston Perlman, of Woodstock led the East-West contingent with 60 per cent. Twenty-four boards were in play in a 12-table Mitchell movement.

Other winners on the North-South side were: Earl Yohnell and John Chapman, Poughkeepsie, 54 per cent; Dr. Victor Randel and Dr. Irving Adner, Kingston, 52 per cent; and Mrs. Harry McNamara, Hurley, 51 1/2 per cent.

John Comstock and Dr. Murray Fletcher placed second with 57 on the East-West side. There was a tie for third place at 56 per cent between the teams of Mrs. Irving Adner and Miss Dorothy Maroon of Kingston and Mrs. I. H. Whecroft and Herbert Gertner of Kingston.

Mike Spada Slated To Pitch Today for Kingston Braves

Big Mike Spada, who started the season with Auburn in the New York-Penn league, was expected to toe the slab this afternoon at Kinderhook when the Kingston Braves met the Columbians in a New York-New Jersey league contest.

The fireballing righthander was recently released by Auburn and General Manager Fred Davi wasted no time in adding him to the Kingston roster. He throws hard and also swings a good bat.

The Braves are slated to play at Spring Valley on Sunday and Al Corwin hopes to get back in a winning stride. He was treated roughly in his two most recent assignments. Poughkeepsie Ho-Bowl's will be at Dietz Stadium next Wednesday night and the Braves are hoping to avenge an earlier loss to the unbeaten Eastern Division leaders.

Age, Experience In Golf Finals

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)

—Eighteen-year-old Gail Purdy of Glens Falls teed off today in the finals of the New York State Women's Golf championship against Mrs. Philip H. Allen of Syracuse, who won her first state title two years before Gail was born.

The pair reached the 36-hole final after Gail eliminated Mrs. Joseph Nesbit of Rye, 2 and 1, and Mrs. Allen beat the medalist and Buffalo district champion, Mrs. I. Rutter, 4 and 3, Friday.

Today's match was expected to be a tough one for the young college sophomore, who is also one of the nation's best female speed skaters. Mrs. Allen has competed in 28 of the 32 state championships to date and is always a strong contender.

Mrs. Allen beat Gail 1-up in the semi-finals of the state tournament two years ago at Lake Placid. Gail reached the semi-finals again last year but was defeated by Mrs. Harry Nevil of Cooperstown, the three-time defending champion, 2 and 1.

Yanks, Tigers Suffer Losses; Reds Maintain 5-Game Margin

Mantle Socks 31st Home Run; Orioles Triumph

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees, avoiding a shutout by Mickey Mantle's 31st home run, were beaten 6-1 at Chicago by the seven-hit pitching of Juan Pizarro Friday night but retained a slim, percentage point lead over Detroit in the American League race. The Tigers lost to Minnesota 5-2.

Jack Kralick allowed 10 hits while beating Detroit ace Frank Lary, but like Pizarro struck out eight, and left nine runners stranded.

While the Yankees stayed ahead of the Tigers by .003 percentage points, third place Baltimore moved within 6 1/2 games of the top by beating Boston 7-6. Cleveland defeated the Los Angeles Angels 7-5 and last place Kansas City won two in a row for the first time in more than a month by sweeping a two-night doubleheader from Washington 8-3 and 9-7, in 10 innings.

Sheldon Loses

Pizarro (5-3), who had lost three in a row, also doubled twice and drove in two runs for the Yankees. They had 10 hits off Whitey Ford (6-3) and Lennie Green had a double and two singles, and Bob Allison hit his 17th home run. Detroit was without third baseman Steve Boros but not up to par after being hit by a pitch last Sunday, and slugging first baseman Norm Cash, out with an infected foot.

The Orioles twice blew leads at Boston, finally nailing it by coming from behind on Dick Williams' three-run homer in the ninth off Red Sox relief ace Mike Fornieles (5-5). Wes Stock (4-0) was the winner in relief.

Cleveland also had to come from behind, after scoring a pair of unearned runs in the first inning. Don Dillard's single broke a 5-5 tie in a two-run eighth inning that wrapped it up. Willie Kirkland's fifth home run in three games triggered a three-run seventh that gave the Indians a 5-4 lead, but Joe Koppe's first All home run knocked it for the Angels in their eighth. Bobby Locke (2-0) was the winner and Jim Donohue (3-3) the loser, both in relief.

Manager Hank Bauer lined a pinch sacrifice fly for the clincher in the 10th that gave the last place A's two consecutive victories for the first time since June 24 (when, incidentally, they also beat Washington twice). A four-run third inning, with Norm Siebern's double the big hit, put away the opener. Ed Rakow (2-4) took the first game, pitching his first complete game in the majors, and reliever Bill Kunkel (2-1) won the nightcap. Joe McClain (7-8) and reliever Dave Sisler (1-4) were the losing pitchers.

SONNY LISTON SUSPENDED — Sonny Liston, left, No. 1 heavyweight challenger, faces the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission in Philadelphia as his attorney, Morton Witkin, pleads his case. The commission later suspended Liston indefinitely for action detrimental to boxing and the public. The suspension of the 28-year-old Liston resulted from two recent arrests in Philadelphia. Moscow Track Meet

Americans Favored Against Russians

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — The United States goes up against Russia today in an Olympic style track meet and while the Americans are rated the favorites, there are imponderables on both sides.

This is the third meeting between the world's two greatest track powers and the Soviets are hoping to improve on their two past performances when the Americans won 14 events to 8 both in 1958 here and 1959 in Philadelphia. They probably will. The guess is that the United States will come out on top 13-8.

In the companion women's meet—which the Russians have promised to score separately — the Soviet girls should win, 9 to 1. Only Wilma Rudolph, the triple Olympic gold medal winner from Tennessee State, appears to be a certain winner for Coach Marian Perkins. Wilma is heavily favored in the 100-meter dash.

In the men's competition, the United States is favored in the 100 meters, 200 meters, 400 meters, 800 meters, 1500 meters, 110 meter hurdles, 400 meter hurdles, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, 400 meter relay and 1600 meter relay. The Russians should win the 5,000 meters, 10,000 meters, 3,000 meter steeplechase, 20 kilometer walk, hop, step and jump, hammer throw, high jump, javelin throw and decathlon.

The first event was scheduled for 9:20 a.m., EST. As for the imponderables: There is not much doubt in the 100, 200 and 400 meters with Frank Budd, Paul Drayton, Ullis Williams and Adolph Plummer. But in the 800 meters, Jim Dupree has not looked good in two races in Europe in the past two weeks.

Millie Star Is Ill

In the 1,500 scheduled for Sunday Dyrrol Burleson, Coach Jumbo Jim Elliott's top entry, is ill with an upset stomach. If he is not recovered, Jim Greille will take his place. However, Jim Beatty still gives the Americans a sure place.

Hayes Jones is a sure bet in the 110 meter hurdles and Cliff Cushman and Dixie Farmer should dominate the 400-meter hurdles.

Ralph Boston, who has broad jumped further than anyone every — 27 feet, 1/2 inch, can't afford to relax against Igor Terovanyan, who has come close to 27 feet. John Thomas, despite having a tooth pulled Friday, could give Valery Brunel a run for his money in the high jump. John Fromm won this year's AAU javelin championship with 249-11 1/2. The Russians haven't been doing much better.

HE GREW HAIR

Before Erickson Treatment

A Few Months Later

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollidaysburg, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with the Erickson representative — saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method.

Erickson

HAIR and SCALP
SPECIALISTS

World's Largest Home Treatment System

Will Be in Kingston Tomorrow, Sunday Only

The Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists' Staff Director, M. E. Gray, on his regularly scheduled visit will be at the Governor Clinton Hotel Sunday, July 16. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.

The Erickson method is known all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Erickson representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.

Results guaranteed by the Erickson organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis.

The Erickson scalp method, or any other method, is of no value against excessive hair loss due to male pattern baldness. The person shown above does not have male pattern baldness. If you are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss the Erickson scalp method cannot help you.

If you have dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excessive oiliness or dryness, itchy scalp or if your scalp is still creating hair you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.

Thousands have reported satisfaction from the Erickson Scalp Method. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Anyway it costs you nothing to come in and learn how thousands have been helped by the years of Erickson experience plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. Just go to the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston, N. Y., on Sunday, July 16 only, between 1 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for M. E. Gray, he will do the rest.

Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Grand Circuit Week Begins Monday at Monticello Raceway

MONTICELLO, N. Y. — Another milestone in the long history of standardbred racing in America will be reached here this coming week when Monticello Raceway offers its growing fabled Grand Circuit racing for the first time.

Well along on its third straight year of continued financial and artistic progress, after a precarious inaugural in '58, the mighty little harness racing plant in the heart of the Catskill resort area has been able to card a full six nights of Grand Circuit events.

There will be seven special events in the six nights and one afternoon worth $100,000 in purses, above the regular over-night races.

Virtually all the top 2 and 3 year-old trotters and pacers in the country as well as a dozen of the top drivers will be seen in action at Monticello Raceway before the historic week has run its course.

In celebration of being able to become a participating member of the Grand Circuit, the Sullivan County Harness Racing Association is inaugurating a brand new series of races for both trotters and pacers named the Excelsior Stakes, which will continue for three years.

This year the Excelsior is for 2-year-olds; next year this same crop will compete in the Excelsior series as 3-year-olds, and continue on as 4-year-olds.

The 1961 Excelsior for 2-year-olds will be raced in four divisions throughout the week, beginning with Monday night's $14,000 Goldsmith Maid Trot. Feature of Wednesday night's card is the Green Mountain Maid Pace; the General Sullivan Pace is carded for Friday night; and the F. E. Devlin Challenge Trophy Trot on Saturday afternoon. The week's series will be worth a total of $70,000.

Tuesday and Thursday nights have been set aside for the 3-year-olds. The Counterpart Trot will offer a $7,500 added purse on Tuesday, and the Supplement Pace for $7,500 added on Thursday.

The Supplement Pace for three-year-olds stacks up as one of harness racing's great attractions of the season, in the eyes of racing secretary Jimmy Dunnigan, with such renowned colts as Adios and Adios Don and Mighty Tide meeting the likes of Brooks Hanover, Henry T. Adios, Frank Ervin's entry of Star Gem and High Test; Hogan Hanover, Large Hanover and possibly Lumber Dream.

Monday night's Goldsmith Maid Trot for fillies, drew a field of 18, and was split into two elimination dashes as the first and second races on the card. The first five finishers in each race will come back in the fifth to produce the first big winner in the new Excelsior series.

Favorites in the first elimination dash looms between Harry Pownall's Terrel, Del Miller's spy Rodney and Billy Houghton's Josia. Frank Ervin's Impish, Joe O'Brien's Laurita Hanover and Levi Harner's Prodical Hanover head the second group.

The two races will present the swiftest juvenile trotters in the land. Impish has already recorded a victory in 2:03.2, a brilliant clocking for a 2-year-old.

Besides the drivers named above, other leading reinsmen scheduled to appear for the Mighty M's gala Grand Circuit week include Clint Hodgins, Stanley Dancer, Earl Avery, Jimmy Jordan, Paul Vineyard, Del Cameron, Bobby Camper, and Lou Huber.

Fumerelle Meets DonFullmer on TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Rocky Fumerelle's first national television fight can earn him another one next month.

The 24-year-old Buffalo, N.Y., middleweight makes his TV and Madison Square Garden, main event debut tonight against younger but more experienced Don Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah. The fight is rated even.

Providing the winner doesn't get cut badly, he will be matched against Benny (Kid) Paret, former welterweight champion from Cuba, at the Garden, Aug. 12.

Fullmer, 22, and the younger Gene Fullmer, was ranked among contenders until he was by Joey Archer last February.

The circuit stars will play at Saugerties on Friday in the first game of the District 15 playoffs.

Members of the squad are Roger Steltz, Robert Gorsline and Carl Legregni of the Dodgers; Fred Serravallo, Louis Beal and Charles Misasi of the Braves; Peter Watzka, Julius Chick, John Nagy, John Bonelli, Richard Clausi and Henry Rua of the Giants and John Watzka and Edward Watzka of the Yankees. Managers are Frank Serravallo of the Braves and John Watzka of the Yankees.

Ulster Dodgers Score 9-3 Win

Getting their runs in threes, the Dodgers ripped the Giants, 9-3, in a Town of Ulster Little League game yesterday. Scott Miller hurled a two-hitter to record the win over Bob Nerone.

Ron Fischang of the winners and Koepfen had doubles while Fischang rapped a triple and Koepfen and Miller slammed home runs in the free hitting contest.

The line score:
R H
Giants 002 001—3 2
Dodgers 330 30x—9 6
Bob Nerone, Paul Koepfen and Ron Swart; Scott Miller and Ron Valle.

Esopus Legion Stars to Play

Members of the Esopus Legion Little League All-star team will meet Hurley at Ross Park on Monday in the first game of the tournament.

Players include Ricky Ahearn, Clint Elting, Jeff Lisman, Orlando Landi and John Kren of the Giants; Sterling Potter, Louis Bruneau, Douglas Freeman and John Melnick of the Indians; Richard Ives and James Potter of the Braves; Rory Welk and James Zoda of the Yankees and Paul Colukos of the Dodgers. Managers are Cassimiro Landi and Francis Fede Jr.

American Aces In Tennis Win Over Ecuador

ST. LOUIS (AP) — If Chuck McKinstry and Dennis Ralston clinch the American zone Davis Cup semifinal for the United States today, it will help vindicate Capt. David Freed's judgment.

The American duo meets Eduardo Zuleta and Miguel Olvera of Ecuador. With the Yanks leading 2-0, it could be the clincher in the best-of-five competition.

Bernard (Tut) Barten and McKinley swept the United States into a commanding lead Friday when Barten swamped Zuleta 6-0, 6-1, 6-1, and McKinley downed Olvera 6-4, 1-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Ralston, 19, Bakersfield, Calif., won the Wimbledon doubles crown a year ago with Rafael Osuna, and McKinley and Earl Buchholz Jr. are the top-ranked U.S. doubles pair. Buchholz has turned pro.

"I've had some pressure to use Ramsey Earnhart and Marty Riessen as a doubles pair," Freed said, "but I think Chuck and Dennis can do the job for us."

Earnhart of Ventura, Calif., and Riessen, of Hinsdale, Ill., are ranked second nationally in doubles.

Jets Split Pair With Jersey City

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Columbus Jets demonstrated Friday night why they are leading the International League by four games.

On the verge of losing ground—and both ends of a doubleheader—the Jets came up with four consecutive hits in the seventh inning that gave them a 4-2 triumph in the second half of the twin bill with Jersey City. The Jerseys copped the opener 5-4.

The second-game triumph kept Columbus four games ahead of Charleston, whose game with Richmond was postponed by rain. In other action, third-place Buffalo downed Syracuse 4-1, and Toronto bounced back to beat Rochester 5-2 after dropping the opener of a doubleheader to the Redwings 2-1.

After 45 Holes

Palmer Leads British Open By Three Strokes

BIRKDALE, England (AP) — Wales by three strokes and Harold Henning of South Africa by five. After Thursday's second round, Rees and Henning led with 142 with Nagle and Palmer deadlocked for second at 143.

The course still showed evidence of Friday's terrific rains. Workmen with buckets and blankets, which they used as mops on the greens, were stationed at every hole.

One of the first to finish the third round was Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif., the British-American senior champion. He carded a 75 for 227 and said the "course is playing beautifully."

READY!

Newspaper Advertising Readers Are Ready To Buy!

Newspaper readers are attracted to your advertising because it interests them. They are more apt to be live, "ready-to-buy" prospects than is the case with readers and viewers of other advertising media.

Live prospects are easier to sell. They actually shop the newspaper ads—they want to be sold, and are looking for information to help make a buying decision. Take housewives, for example—research* proves that 75% of them check the ads in the daily newspaper before making their main shopping trips of the week.

It's that kind of readiness on the part of newspaper readers that can mean ready sales for you!

The Weather

SATURDAY, JULY 15, 1961
Sun rises at 4:31 a. m.; sun sets at 7:31 p. m., E.S.T.
Weather: Cloudy, warm.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 69 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 80 degrees.

Weather Forecast

Lower and Upper Hudson Valley: Warm and humid, with variable cloudiness and occasional showers scattered afternoon and evening. Thundershowers through the weekend, with the best weather expected during Sunday. High temperatures both days, 75-85. Low Saturday night in the 60s. Winds southerly and southwesterly, 10-20, and gusty in thundershowers. Outlook Monday, uncertain but from present indications little change. Poor drying conditions throughout.

Western New York, Northern and Southern Finger Lakes, East of Lake Ontario:

Changeable sky and warm to tonight and Sunday. Some chance of isolated thundershowers in the area. High temperatures around 80. Low tonight 60-65. Southerly winds, 10-20, during daylight hours and under 10 at night.

To Hit Unions Practicing Race Discrimination

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., promises to use all his political power as chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee to prevent legislation favoring unions which practice racial discrimination.

Powell spoke Friday night at a meeting of Negro labor union officials held in conjunction with the NAACP's 52nd annual convention. He declared organized labor was the "last national bastion of American bigotry."

Other speakers at the week-long convention here hit consistently against what they called delay in full racial integration. The overriding theme of the meeting was: "We want all our constitutional rights, and we want them now." Powell was sharply critical of the building trades unions—the carpenters, plumbers, electrical workers, plasterers and operating engineers. He declared:

"This is the last time I will request the craft unions to get their house in order. I will do everything in my power to prevent any legislation favorable to the craft unions from coming out of our committee until they get in step with democracy." Powell's stand was backed up by A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and an NAACP vice president. Randolph urged "immediate and complete eradication of racial discrimination and segregation in the labor movement."

TWA Plane With 53 Lands Safely

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Trans World Airlines jetliner landed without incident at International Airport Friday night although instruments had indicated a loss of hydraulic pressure in the landing gear system.

Capt. John Graham landed the Convair 440 safely as four fire trucks stood by Graham said the plane, carrying 45 passengers and a crew of 8 from New York, had similar difficulty in a landing at Phoenix.

But TWA officials said an investigation failed to find any defects in the landing equipment.

Beaconites Will Face Judge On Gaming Case

Arrested in gambling raids directed by Dutchess County District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta, five Beacon residents will be arraigned before City Judge Benjamin Roosa in that city at 9 a. m. Monday.

Meanwhile, Baratta and assistant district attorneys were preparing to present evidence to a hold-over grand jury starting at 10 a. m. on Tuesday.

Sixth Is Sought
A warrant was issued for a sixth defendant, but no arrest has been made due to illness of the accused defendant said to be a woman.

Baratta said Friday that raids in Beacon conducted by city police in charge of Chief Samuel Wood and state police, disclosed possible ties with gambling activities in Newburgh and other Orange county communities. Such evidence was turned over to state police.

Baratta said he knows the identity of the "so called big wheels" in Beacon gambling and every effort will be made by his office to get them.

Five Identified
Arrested during Thursday's raids were Hubert Jones, 48, and his wife, Lela Mae, 36, who operate a grocery store at 30 Beekman Street; Dante Pietrolorte, 65, operator of Dan's candy store, 259 Main Street; Frank Romano, 52, a former professional boxer and referee, and Frank Tomasi, 67, of 2 Cross Street, who operates Tomasi's restaurant, 163 Main Street.

New Hydraulic Woes Reported On DC8 Flight

DENVER (AP)—For the third time in four days, a DC8 jet airliner has reported trouble in the craft's hydraulic system amid continuing studies by Federal Aviation Agency experts.

The same malfunction was reported Tuesday by the captain of a United Air Lines DC8 which crashlanded here, killing 17.

Another United DC8, on a training flight with four air line employees aboard, reported hydraulic trouble here Friday but landed without incident.

An Eastern Air Lines DC8 experienced similar troubles Wednesday while approaching Miami, Fla. It, too, landed safely. A full investigation of the DC8 wreckage from last Tuesday's crash won't be completed for several weeks, but the FAA in Washington issued new regulations Thursday seeking to tighten safety precautions in cases of hydraulic emergencies aboard DC8s.

All air lines using the $5 million planes were instructed in new procedures designed to save pressure when hydraulic system failures make it impossible to lower landing gear in the normal way.

At the same time, however, the FAA said a sudden change in engine thrust might have been responsible for the tragedy here last Tuesday.

The backward thrust on a plane's engines normally is reversed upon landing to slow the craft's forward motion. The federal agency suggested that the inadvertent opening of the thrust reverse mechanism on the United DC8 could have caused the pilot to lose control upon landing.

The FAA emphasized that this is only one of several possibilities.

Schoharie Boy, 13, Picked Up; In Stolen Truck

A 13-year-old Schoharie County boy was apprehended early this morning near Lexington, Greene County, driving a stolen pickup truck.

The boy, not identified because he is a minor, was driving the truck along Route 23A in an easterly direction about 1 a. m. today when he was spotted by a patrol of the Leeds state police. The boy pulled the vehicle over to the side of the road and leaped out in an effort to escape into the woods. He was apprehended, however, and turned over later to Oneonta state police.

Leeds troopers said the boy had taken the truck, owned by Charles Lockwood of Oneonta, from that vicinity some time Friday.

State police had no explanation of the boy's actions.

McCloy off for Moscow

NEW YORK (AP)—John J. McCloy, U.S. disarmament chief, left Idlewild Airport Friday night for Moscow and what he called "a continuing series of talks" to work out the format for a disarmament conference.

WHAT YOUNG IVAN READS — Long-time adventure favorites of American children are finding new audiences across international barriers. Among the familiar titles on Russian bookshelves are three shown here: From left, selected stories of Mark Twain; "Song of Hiawatha," by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and "The Pathfinder," by James Fenimore Cooper. Twain's works have topped 13 million copies in the U.S.S.R. The volumes appear in a cultural exchange exhibition of children's books — visiting New York, Cleveland, Ohio, and Denver, Colo.

Business Week in Review

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—New omens of a rising tempo of business ahead shone during the week through a seasonal haze of summer slowdown signs.

Mostly, they came from the giant steel and auto industries, and in statistics out of Washington on gains in employment and production activity generally. Encouraging word on sales and profits came from American Telephone & Telegraph Co., International Business Machines Corp., Du Pont and other industry bellwethers.

Some Cross-Currents
Cross-currents in steel mirrored the over-all picture.

The traditional summertime slump tightened its grip, yet a gush of orders for future delivery presumably their myriad manufacturing customers who generate steam in a wide sector of the economy.

Figures for the holiday-shortened Fourth of July week reflected a 7.6 per cent cut in output from the preceding week to 1,779,000 tons, a six-week low.

But Iron Age, a trade publication, reported orders for August 20 to 25 per cent above comparable advance data for May and June, both fairly good months. January-June production was up 16 per cent from the preceding six months, when steelmakers were in the doldrums.

A somewhat similar pattern held in autos.

Output Tapers Off
Although production was tapering off as the industry neared the end of 1961 model runs heralding wholesale but temporary employe layoffs, the sales picture was bright.

Turnover by dealers in June, while down 9 per cent from a year ago, saw a robust 538,746 cars find buyers, slightly behind May.

General Motors said the month was the best of the 1961 model run, aided by a surge in the last 10 days. The uptrend continued into the first one-third of July for principal Ford Motor Co. products.

The automakers and the United Auto Workers' Union bargained to supplant wage contracts expiring soon.

The talks proceeded in a generally hopeful atmosphere, and steel ordering by automakers suggested they were not expecting a strike.

In Washington, unofficial figures subject to later adjustment put the economy's gross national product for the April-June quarter at $512 billion, $7 billion above the prerecession high and up $12 billion from the first quarter. The GNP measures the nation's total output of goods and services.

Work Week Lengthens
Even better news emerged from the Labor Department.

As of mid-June, it said, non-farm payrolls were up 600,000 from May 15, including a 240,000 rise—twice the expected seasonal increase—in factor employment.

Moreover, the average work week lengthened to 40.1 hours, a gain of .4, and average blue collar wages in manufacturing rose to $94.24, up $1.34 from a month earlier and a new all-time high. Still, with employment at 68,706,000, the ranks of job-seekers, reinforced by newly graduated high school and college students, stood at a troubling level of 5,580,000, including 900,000 persons out of work 27 weeks or longer.

Production of textiles continued a six-month climb. Florida processors reported a record-high pack of frozen orange concentrate—$2.4 million gallons—and a leading rubber industry figure predicted 1961 would go down as the second best year in replacement tires sales.

Gloom in Rail Industry
Comparative gloom persisted in the $27-billion assets railroad industry, as vital freight traffic sagged—partly because of spreading vacations in the coal mines—

Latest retail trade and department store sales data lacked any sparkle, although June activity was barely ahead of May.

In New York, the stock market put on a lackluster performance after a spurt the week before, and in Washington a congressional committee approved $750,000 to beef up an inquiry already under way into securities trading practices.

Sales on the stock exchange this week totaled 14,844,700 shares compared with 11,964,700 last week. Bond sales on the exchange totaled $31,712,000 (par value) this week against $26,739,000 the week before.

Briefly around the business scene—AT&T reported earnings of $326 million for the three months ended May 31, up from $311.9 million in the like 1960 quarter. The Business Advisory Council of the U.S. Department of Commerce severed governmental ties and reorganized as a private group in the wake of differences with Secretary Luther H. Hodges.

NEW CHAIRMAN — Joseph C. Swidler of Nashville, Tenn., appointed by President Kennedy, will become chairman of the Federal Power Commission in September.

Accord Man Still Critical, Hurt in Cycle Accident

Richard Vandermark, 20, of Accord, was still in critical condition today at the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, as the result of a motorcycle accident Tuesday night on the Mettacaobots road, Town of Rochester.

He received internal injuries, a lacerated left arm and contusions of the head when his cycle skidded on a curve and struck the front of a 1960 sedan operated by Fritz Apel, 60, of Kerhonkson.

Apel brought his car to a stop as he saw the cycle skidding toward him, but was unable to avoid the collision.

Columbia Farmer Sues for $10,000 Grape Crop Loss

A Columbia County farmer, William C. Collier of Livingston this week filed a claim for $10,000 against the county, asserting his grape crop was destroyed through negligence of Columbia County Highway Department.

The claim was filed Wednesday afternoon with Columbia County Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Carlyle Rockefeller. Collier in his claim said John Duntz, an employee of the highway department was spraying along County Highway 31 and used the spray in a negligent and careless manner which harmed his grape crop. Weed and brush killer was used, he said.

5 Unhappy About Farm-Supported Cadillac Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five Illinois farmers are unhappy about a colleague who grandly wheeled into town in a Cadillac to thumb his nose at farm support programs.

And they have arrived to file a protest, in a 1959 Chevrolet bearing a sign that says: "We're five Illinois farmers who could not afford a Cadillac with our federal grain program production payments. However this paid some current expenses."

"We've been mad ever since we saw that man's picture in the paper," said Paul Miller of Harmon, Ill., speaking for the group. "That man" Miller referred to is William T. Smith, a Big Flats, N.Y., farmer who boasted he made the downpayment on a $6,100 Cadillac with money he got from the government for not planting 104 acres with corn. And he promised he would pay off the car with money he expected to get in the fall for not planting grain.

The five indignant Midwesterners—Miller, Russell Miller (no relation) of Walnut, Pete McCune of Rock Falls and Harold Deitz and Patrick Henry, both of Harmon—said Friday they decided "on the spur of the moment to drive to Washington."

They got a sympathetic reception from Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.
